REBEL TROOPS GIVE UP COLON TO GEN. ALBAN

Surrender Made First to Foreign Warships, Who Then Turn Over the City to the Regulars.

U. S. MARINES ESCORT VICTORS INTO THE TOWN

The Revolutionist Gen. de la Rosa Excepts Himself and His Son From the Conditions of Annesty Granted by the Victors and Will Remain Prisoners of War.

YIELDED TO OVERWHELMING ODDS AGAINST HIM

TERMS ON WHICH COLON WAS SURRENDERED

First—Gen. de la Rosa, the leader of the insurgent troops in Colon, will surrender the city to Gen. Alban, together with all of the munitions of war, within 24 hours.

Second—Gen. Alban will guarantee life and liberty to all the citizens and insurgent soldiers in Colon, provided the delivery of arms and ammunition is effected in good faith.

Third—The surrender will be made through the commanders of the United States, British and French war vessels, who will receive the city and hand it over to Gen. Alban and the constitutional authorities; but this agreement does not include Gen. de la Rosa, nor his brother, and the former has stated that he will surrender in consideration of his lack of defense and the exceptional situation in which Colon is placed regarding international interests, as well as those of his country.

HOW THE AGREEMENT WAS REACHED.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by the New York Herald Co.)

COLON, COLOMBIA, Nov. 29.—Colon has been surrendered by the insurgents to Gen. Alban, commander of the government troops and governor of the department of Panama. The surrender was agreed upon as the result of the conference on board the United States gunboat Marietta yesterday between the commanders of the foreign warships and Gen. Alban and Gen. De la Rosa, the representative of the revolutionists.

It was decided that Colon should first be given over to the commander of the warships, the United States authorities acting as the chief intermediary.

The terms of agreement of the surrender were signed at the close of the conference by Gens. Alban and De la Rosa.

Bluejackets and marines from the United States battleship Iowa and the United States gunboats Machias and Marietta, with the commanders of those war vessels and the consular officers, were present at the ceremony this morning on handing over the city. Capt. Perry of the battleship Iowa, as the ranking United States officer, took a prominent part in the ceremony, which was begun at 11:30 o'clock.

Flag Lowered in Silence.

There was no music at the hauling down of the flag of the Liberals, which for several minutes refused to be lowered. It clung to the pole owing to a strong wind. While the flag was being lowered many of the Liberal soldiers, many of whose heads were uncovered, burst into tears.

Gen. De la Rosa, in making the formal surrender, read an address, at the close of which he shouted: "Viva Colombia!" The insurgent soldiers around them raised three cheers of "Viva partido Liberal" and "Viva Gen. De la Rosa!"

After the cheering, Gen. de la Rosa, with the insurgent soldiers, marched down the street to the barracks, where the United States marines and bluejackets took possession of the arms and ammunition. Gen. Alban, with 250 government troops which had remained at Gatun, a few miles from Colon, came into the city at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The federal force was escorted by the United States marines and bluejackets to the Cuartel, where Gen. Alban received and kept Gen. de la Rosa's sword.

Gen. de la Rosa, after handing over his sword, said that, according to the agreement the insurgent soldiers in Colon were not to be deprived of their lives and liberty, but as for his brother and himself he declared that they waived that part of the agreement referring to them. They preferred, he said, to be imprisoned, as their hearts were with the Liberal party. Gen. Alban replied that he needed Gen. de la Rosa in Panama for pacification purposes.

Capt. Perry Makes a Speech.

In giving over the city of Colon to Gen. Alban, Capt. Perry of the battleship Iowa made a brief speech. After he had finished, the Colombian warship Gen. Pinzon, which was bedecked with flags, blew her siren in celebration of the surrender. The Gen. Pinzon is lying close to a wharf.

United States marines are still guarding the piers and railroad station. The French cruiser has landed marines on the property of the French Canal Company.

The surrender has cast a gloom over the city.

The struggle for the last several days to keep Gen. Alban's force from reaching Colon was made by about 200 Liberal volunteers, who fought against 700 government soldiers well equipped with munitions of war. The government lost in killed and wounded during the fight more than 300 men, while the loss of the Liberals was 50.

It is reported that the main force of the Liberals is still intact in the interior of the department. It is said United States Consul General Gudger has asserted that the government troops broke faith on Wednesday by using a freight train on the Panama railroad as a cover and firing between the cars at the insurgents. The Liberals say they did not return the fire while the train was passing, in obedience to the regulations of the United States authorities.

Some insignificant fighting occurred at Bohio yesterday morning, where the Liberals made a last stand.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—With the restoration of order at Colon and open traffic on the isthmus of Panama, it is expected that the navy department will be able to withdraw some of the United States warships now on duty in that quarter, and it is probable that one ship will be withdrawn on either side of the isthmus. There will be no haste, however, in reducing the naval strength, as the officials feel that the surrender of the Liberals on the isthmus may not terminate the entire struggle throughout Colombia.

WILL EXPEND MILLIONS IMPROVING NEW DIVISION

Baltimore & Ohio Plans Include an Issue of Bonds Secured by Lately Acquired Properties.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29.—It was announced today that under the financial plan to create a new division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad there will be available several million dollars for improvement on the properties to be taken in. These compose the lines extending from the great lakes to the coal fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, embracing 14 distinct properties. There will be issued $20,000,000 of additional common stock and from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 of bonds, secured by a deposit of the securities to be exchanged, and which are now treasury assets of the Baltimore & Ohio.

An authorized issue of $70,000,000 of bonds is contemplated, of which from $30,000,000 to $35,000,000 will be reserved to redeem as they mature, bonds on the various properties taken in.

Although the police remained in office a month he never gave me the list. When I reached him on it he would say he had it ready and would bring it to me [illegible] But he never did.

"I then instructed the men of my own appointment to secure me a list. When I received it I had the captains visit the places and close them up. The captains reported to me that the places were closed.

"When I was making inquiries I was invariably told by old men in the department that this place or that place had been approved by Flinn. Senator Flinn sanctioned and authorized most of the gambling houses which were open when I became director. These places were closed by me. During my administration there were no exceptions. I closed them wherever I found them."

An attempt was made to secure Senator Flinn's reply to Mr. Fulton, but he could not be reached.

M'CONNELL IS CONSERVATIVE

Congressman Speaks Guardedly on Governor Stone's Recent Action.

REGRETS FLINN'S RETURN TO POWER

Topics That He Does Not Care to Discuss—Senator Penrose Will Not Go to Mexico With the Executive—O'Mara Visits Harrisburg.

BY C. D. POTTER.
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 29.—Congressman William Connell of Scranton, the town which, up to date, holds the record for gubernatorial booms, was in a conservative mood when he registered at the Stratford today. He had a few hours to lay over before going to Washington, and indulged in a few "ripper" reminiscences. While bitterly opposed to the ripper charter when first presented, Mr. Connell permitted himself to be mollified by the governor's statement that "So far as Lackawanna county is concerned, William Connell is governor of the commonwealth."

Stone's first choice did not please the governor, so he "ripped" him out and appointed a relative of Connell's just as he deposed Maj. Brown, his first choice, and named Flinn's selection in the person of J. O. Brown. This much of history is necessary to indicate why, at this time, Congressman Connell doesn't consider it wise to express his real opinion of Gov. Stone. But try as he would he could not conceal the disgust he feels over the Stone-Flinn alliance.

"It looks to me as though Flinn was in power again," regretfully observed Mr. Connell.

Declined to Approve Stone.

"Do you approve the governor's action?"

"I will not discuss that now."

"How about your gubernatorial candidacy?"

"That, too, is not a popular topic with me at the present time."

"How about Watres, does he expect support from Democrats and insurgents?"

"I think not. No, in my opinion Mr. Watres will fight within party lines for the Republican nomination."

"Who would be the strongest candidate for the Democrats?"

"Ex-Governor Pattison; but neither he nor any other Democrat can be elected. The Republican state convention will name the next governor of Pennsylvania."

"And his name is?"

"It will be necessary to nominate a strong candidate. I think one will be selected."

There is a rumor that Connell and Watres have patched up their personal differences and that Connell, at an opportune time will declare for Mr. Watres.

Senator Boies Penrose apparently feels little interest in gubernatorial possibilities. When I asked him today what he thought of Maj. Gen. Miller, who has been mentioned, he said:

"I know nothing about it."

"Don't you think he would be a good candidate?"

"Gen. Miller is a very pleasant gentleman. He has a distinguished record as a soldier and therefore ought to make a good governor."

"Are you going with the Stone party to Mexico?" I asked.

"No; I have my duties in congress and they will fully occupy my time."

O'Mara Visits the Governor.

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Gov. Stone and Roger O'Mara spent three hours together this morning in the governor's private office on Capitol hill. During their meeting the governor talked with Recorder A. O. Brown over the long distance telephone. O'Mara was asked the purpose of his visit and said:

"I have nothing to say. I was just going through the city and stopped over to pay my respects to the governor."

O'Mara left for Pittsburgh this afternoon. It is thought his visit here had to do with his efforts to be reinstated as chief of the Pittsburgh detective force. Senator Flinn is said to favor the appointment of County Detective Robinson for O'Mara's old place. O'Mara and Stone are close personal and political friends and the former probably came here to seek the governor's aid. Recorder Brown will do as Boise says, which means that if the governor asks him to reinstate O'Mara it will be done in spite of Flinn's support of Robinson.

After O'Mara left the governor he was asked if he was an applicant for his old place.

"I am not an applicant for any place," he replied.

"Will you take it if you can get it?"

"That depends. If J. O. Brown wants me to take it to help him out I will do so. I am his friend in and out of office. We were together for 14 years, and he always treated me right."

"Does the governor want you to have your old place?"

"We didn't talk about that. The governor is my friend. That is all I have to say. I suppose my place will be filled the first of the month."

cheerfully testify to as a first-class appointment.

Resolved further, That we pledge the active support of the Republican city committee and the Republicans of Pittsburgh to our worthy chairman, the Hon. J. O. Brown, in his efforts to give to the people of this community a good administration of their civic affairs. We know his past efforts in this direction and can easily prophesy the future.

Resolved further, That the secretary of this committee be instructed to forward to Gov. William A. Stone and Recorder J. O. Brown a copy of these resolutions.

There was slight applause, and ex-Councilman F. C. Bienhauer paved the way for the oratorical effort of Mr. Flinn. Mr. Bienhauer said:

Opposed to Ripping.

I have been opposed to ripping since its inception. I don't think that there is any man here who believes in ripping. This committee was not called together to take any action when our first mayor was ripped out. The committee should have met then. Then, and I do not know how long a lease of life we have got in this thing, because we are under the finger of Gov. Stone. We shouldn't build monuments for any man until we are sure that they are lasting.

I must protest against indorsing Gov. Stone, because had he not signed the ripper bill and had he not signed the elevated bills there would not have been any reason for this action tonight.

Senator Flinn in defense of his old enemy, the governor, said:

I cannot agree with my friend Bienhauer on this occasion. I do not think that there has been any man in the county who has spent more time than I have in this matter. It is all true what Mr. Bienhauer says. We have no certain lease on life. We have to take things as we find them. The last six months we have had many things that were unexpected.

The ripper was passed, as we thought, to satisfy a desire for revenge. That was not the whole reason, but a desire for looting the town, and there were some men, and well-known men, who were concerned in it. But what has Gov. Stone done? Much to the surprise of all men, we find the governor dividing this time between the Bigelows and our faction. We were satisfied, knowing that just as soon as we got a chance to vote we would win at the polls.

Held Every Office.

These men, who squandered their wealth to further their business enterprises and get possession of the streets, did the desperate thing of even turning out the officers who were friendly to the organization. The result was that for three or four months these people who were interested in the elevated railroads had possession of every office in the city of Pittsburgh, and it never even brought them one vote.

We had a spectacle that I don't believe any man in this room will ever witness again. I don't at this time know of one single vote in the councils of the city of Pittsburgh that was brought to the leaders of this faction by the removal of Messrs. Brown and Burleigh. I thought that political office has more power than it has. These men were thrown out of office, but it did not serve. We have seen men go down and out of office, and never again do I expect to see such loyalty as we had under these circumstances.

We have had three months of imbecile government. The great interests of the city have lain dormant. More people die of typhoid fever in this city every year than were killed in the Spanish war on both sides, while these people were gloating over the spoils of the city. The streets are filthy and too unclean to walk on.

This condition of affairs has been changed. Who has it been changed by? By the man who has been largely responsible for the ripper legislation, Gov. Stone. The man who is now recorder, if he had permitted resorts of vice to have gone on as they had been running, could have been as wealthy as any man in this commonwealth, but he did not. Everybody knows that this recorder will give a good government. He will build a filtration plant, and quickly, too.

Hasten Technical School.

He will meet Mr. Carnegie and go half way in getting this trade school started, which is so much needed, so that many poor young men may have a chance to get an education.

Vice will not be for sale as it has been in this city for the last three months. The gamblers from all over the country have come here. Men know that what I say is true. The men who have controlled the police force of Pittsburgh know that the handling of vice can be made a thing of profit to them if they want it so. A. H. Lea'le will permit nothing of that kind to go on. Women will be able to walk in the streets, knowing that they will be protected. This is but one case that I have pointed out, and why should we not commend the governor for making this possible? He may turn out our present recorder, but why should he? He placed no embargo on me or any man who has been appointed, that brought about the appointment.

This committee will shortly adjourn. The recorder will be a candidate for office in February, 1903. Some of the newspapers will grumble. Some of the editors will sit at home and find fault with him, but the only influence they will have will be from the cartoons. Who will believe that the Philadelphia Company is running the government of Pittsburgh? Who will believe that Judge Reed is dictating at once to the police department of the city of Pittsburgh? Why, he knows as much about politics as I do about Latin.

Sure of Victory at Polls.

Everybody knows that if the elevated administration had remained in power it would have been defeating at once if we thought we had an opportunity to vote on it. We have come unexpectedly into power. Now it is our duty to go back to our homes and prepare for the future. We have our ward committees to elect, and we have to prepare for the raising of taxes, and we know that whatever tax is levied, our recorder will spend the money wisely. We should go on in the future as we have in the past, and the future will take care of itself.

I can prophesy that J. O. Brown will be the recorder until the election in 1903, and then it will be found that he will have more votes than any other man who was ever voted for in the city of Pittsburgh.

The resolution was adopted by a yea and nay vote, as Senator Flinn wanted the "boys" lined up. The result was 101 to 1, Mr. Bienhauer voting in the negative.

Thomas E. Perry of the Twelfth ward offered a resolution fixing January 18, 1902, between the hours of 4 and 7 p. m., as the date for the primaries at which a candidate for controller and candidates for councilmen and ward officers will be nominated. The meeting adjourned after it was announced that Secretary Robert Ostermaier would celebrate his reinstatement as delinquent tax collector by setting up the cigars.

OSTERMAIER WEAKENS AND RETAINS HAGER

Old Soldier Will Stay in Delinquent Tax Collector's Office—Grier Resigns in Allegheny.

Samuel S. Hager, the old soldier and clerk in the office of the delinquent tax office, will not be removed. Collector Robert Ostermaier announced last night that he had been reappointed.

Despite the objection of the governor to the removal of old soldiers, Mr. Hager told the Gazette that Mr. Ostermaier had asked for his resignation. This paper presented the case to the public and even though Mr. Ostermaier admitted having selected Mr. Hager's successor, there was a switch and the man who was wounded in defense of his country will remain in office. Mr. Ostermaier's only explanation is that Hager hollered too soon.".

Mr. Ostermaier has at last made known his appointments. He will take charge of the office Monday. The selections follow:

C. Ray McClain, Eleventh ward, chief clerk; Joseph H. Thomas, Twenty-eighth ward, clerk; William Bradley, Twenty-sixth ward, clerk; H. W. WESTINGHOUSE NOT INTERESTED

Denies Report That Local Concern Has Options on Paris Tramways.

ABROAD ON DIFFERENT BUSINESS

General Traction Company of the French Capital Anxious to Secure the Aid of Foreign Financiers. Wants to Adopt Electric Power.

(Special Correspondence of The Gazette.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—On the authority of George Westinghouse it is possible to deny the report published recently that the Westinghouse company of Pittsburgh had obtained an option on a large section of the tramways of Paris.

Mr. Westinghouse, who returned from Paris yesterday said to me this morning: "There is nothing whatever in the report. It was stated at first that J. D. Rockefeller had become interested in the tramways, and I presume that later on Mr. Yerkes will be named quite as positively.

Sir George Westinghouse.

As for myself, I was in Paris on entirely different business."

The report published here stated that the option obtained by the Westinghouse company, with whom other Americans were said to be associated, would expire January 1.

It is a fact, however, that the General Traction Company which controls most of the Paris tramways is anxious to interest outside capital in its present undertakings which include the construction of an extensive power house and the adoption of electricity as the motive power on all its lines, some of which now employ horse traction, some compressed air, and a few trolley, surface contact and "accumulator." Negotiations have been pending for some time between the General Traction Company and the Exploration Company of Paris, in which the Rothschilds are extensively interested, and in the management of which Mr. Lukach of London is prominent. The fact that Mr. Lukach is connected also with the Westinghouse company is probably the basis for the report published here.

"There is no doubt," said an official of the Westinghouse company yesterday, "that there is at present a strong tendency among American capitalists to secure extensive interests in the tramways of continental cities. It now seems probable that Americans will gain entire control of those of St. Petersburg, where electrical is to be substituted for the present traction, which consists only of steam and mules. Already Americans are interested in the tramways of Madrid and Belgium, and seem likely to be represented before long in the surface railways of the Norwegian and Swedish cities, as well as of those of Constantinople.

"The Berlin tramways, however, will be difficult of capture. Probably the situation will not be improved by the coming tariff legislation in Germany in which Americans are to be 'kicked' wherever possible. The government is anxious to foster the electrical industry in Germany and already has turned a short military railway just out of Berlin over to manufacturers where speed experiments may be made. The general depression and need of outside capital throughout Germany may, however, give Americans the opening they need."

MAY BE NO EVENTS.

Golf Players Will Let Weather Man Decide.

Again are the local golfers at the mercy of the weather man and how much activity there will be on Pittsburgh links today depends entirely on whether Old Sol, Jupiter Pluvius or the Snow King reigns. On the Highland Golf club course there will be an 18-hole handicap sweepstakes if a sufficient number of members find the weather conditions endurable.

There are several events yet to be played on the Pittsburgh Golf club schedule, including a tie in the "bogey" competition to be settled. What will be done today is uncertain here also.

But three holes of the Logans Ferry course are open to play, owing to the high water stage on the Allegheny river, and the "Puckety" creek, but if the weather permits there will be handicap medal play.

The annual 36-hole handicap competition for the Cresson cup, scheduled for the Allegheny Country club course for today, has been indefinitely postponed. This trophy must be won three times for possession, and has now been taken twice by E. M. Byers.

In an 18-hole handicap "bogey" competition on the Schenley course of the Pittsburgh Golf club A. B. Shepherd and W. H. Singer tied with scores of 9 down each. The scores:

	H'dc'p.	Bogey score.
A. B. Shepherd	6	9 down
W. H. Singer	9	9 down

IN HASTE TO ACT ON THE TAX LEVY

ADMINISTRATION WANTS IT OUT OF THE WAY BY FEBRUARY.

Councilman Robert H. Douglas Will Lead Stalwart Legislators in a Fight Against Any Increase in the Millage for 1902—Appropriations Were Wilfully Cut Where They Would Most Be Felt, He Declares.

The new administration is becoming brave. It is announced that the new tax levy ordinance will be acted upon by councils before the February elections. It has been the custom in the past to hold back this most important piece of legislation to the taxpayers until after the new councilmen are chosen.

The heads of the city departments have been ordered to get their estimates ready much earlier than had been intended. This is to pave the way to the preparation of the tax ordinance.

The leaders of the administration have decided that it would be better politics to dispose of the millage question previous to the elections.

Councilman R. H. Douglas and other stalwart leaders in councils will oppose any increase in the tax levy for 1902.

"There is no necessity for an increase in the tax levy," said Mr. Douglas yesterday. "Raising it from 15 to 16 mills only means giving the present administration more money to spend. The interests of the city do not demand it and I know of no public improvements contemplated that would justify raising the taxation.

"More money was raised this year under a 15 mill levy than last year with 17 mills. The great number of new buildings erected during this year will produce in revenue any additional amount of money that may be needed to meet any natural increase in the regular expenses of running the city government.

Increase in New Buildings.

"The increase in the taxable valuations from new property built within the present year will amount at least to $10,000,000. The Frick building alone will be assessed at $2,000,000. The valuation on this building will be 1-150th part of the entire valuation of last year.

"An extension of the police force is needed, it is said, but with this and all other additions that may be required in the city service it would not be necessary to raise the levy one mill.

"Of course, if the present administration wants lots of money to spend there could be no limit to the millage, but with the affairs of the city economically administered the present levy of 15 mills is sufficient for all purposes. The other side will say that the proposed increase in the levy is needed to pay off the deficit at the end of the year, but we have had a deficit every year. The deficit in former years was larger under 17-mill levies than it will be this year.

"If the public service has suffered from lack of revenue this year it has not been because of the cut in the tax levy. It is due to the manner in which the appropriations were reduced to meet the tax levy.

Cuts Purposely Made.

"The appropriations for streets were cut down purposely and appropriations far less necessary left untouched, simply to make the reductions where they would be most felt by the people. The appropriations were cut by the finance committee and approved by councils. The machine saw it would be unpopular to defeat a lower levy and they cut the appropriations that were most needed, expecting the people to complain of ill kept streets and to favor a return to a 17-mill levy next year.

"They are also talking of voting more money for bridges in the annual appropriation ordinance for next year," said Mr. Douglas. "This is a fair sample of their purpose. The city has now all the money it needs for bridges. It has $540,000 from the last bond issue lying idle in the banks."

Jesse Pavey, who was removed from the detective bureau by Former Director Andrew Fulton, is seeking promotion under the new administration. "I want to be inspector of police in the City district or nothing," said he. "I have always been J. O. Brown's friend and will continue to be friendly even if I am not appointed. I hold the key to the Third ward and it will be turned over 'right' to the regular organization. Any time J. O. wants me to do anything, either day or night, he simply has to give the word."

A NEAT LITTLE GAME.

F. D. Thomas Accuses His Roommate of Buncoing Him in a Business Transaction.

S. B. Frantz of No. 518 First street, Allegheny, was given a hearing yesterday before Alderman Festus King of the South Side on a charge of false pretense, and was committed to jail for trial at court in default of $1,000 bail.

F. D. Thomas, who formerly roomed with Frantz, in Allegheny, accused him of buncoing him out of considerable money.

He had talked with Frantz when they were rooming together, telling him that he would like to purchase a restaurant. Frantz was to find a location and secured $40 for expenses, etc. He finally told Thomas that he had found one, which could be purchased for $1,300. It was located on Diamond street. Thomas gave him $1,000, and later $326 more.

When presented with the bill of sale the restaurant proved to be at No. 1421 Penn avenue. Frantz then secured $78 more with which to buy supplies for the place.

When Thomas saw his restaurant he thought that too much money had been paid for it. He investigated and learned that less than $500 had been paid for the restaurant.

The bill of sale, which was apparently signed before Alderman James Kirby, was declared by that gentleman to be a forgery, the original being for a much smaller amount. A charge of forgery may be made against Frantz.

Columbus Steel and Iron Company Unable to Secure Supply of Coke.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 29.—The Columbus Steel and Iron Company has been forced to bank its big furnace in this city, owing to inability to secure coke, and the 150 employes probably will be idle for the next ten days.

The source of the trouble is a shortage of cars, all available equipment being used to rush coal to the lakes before the close of the season of navigation, which is later this year than usual.

TEXAS WANTS KILPATRICK.

Alleged Great Northern Train Robber Will Be Tried for Murder.

AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 29.—Extradition papers were issued today on Gov. Dockery of Missouri for Benjamin Kilpatrick, the alleged highwayman who was arrested recently in St. Louis on a charge of being concerned in the Montana train robbery.

He will be taken to Concho county, where he will be tried on the charge of murdering Oliver Thornton, a cattleman.

THE PIANOLA

The Only Perfect Piano Player

The Pianola does not discourage music lessons. On the contrary, it has done more than anything else to cultivate a real appreciation for the compositions of the great masters. Wherever you find a Pianola you find the keenest interest in good music—

This beneficent influence is explained by the fact that the Pianola's playing cannot be distinguished from hand playing. And the Pianola is the only player whose expression is absolutely perfect. No musician pretends to such technique—no musician can ever attain such facility—

The Pianola plays any piano, and any person can operate it—experience is not necessary.

ENGLISH POETIC IDOL FALLS FROM PEDESTAL IN THE GALLIC HEART

Swinburne Dethrones Himself in France by Defending His Country.

ALL BECAUSE OF BOERS

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
PARIS, Nov. 29.—Swinburne's sonnet in commemoration of the death of Col. Benson in the Transvaal, which appeared in last week's London Saturday Evening Review, has cost him the great popularity which he acquired in France when Victor Hugo introduced his poetry into France. In this new sonnet he glorifies England and calls foreign criticism "mere filth dropped in wandering waves." The Swinburne club, which has been long established in Paris, was permanently disrupted today. The members of the club, including several of the best-known literary personages of modern France, passed this motion:

"Any poet able to approve the British massacre of innocents is not fit for French favor. It were best that he be allowed to pass out of memory entirely."

Swinburne's explanation of his attitude was published in the Daily Mail and translated for the Paris press. It is unable to throw oil on the turbulent waters of the French literary set, who have made as great a cult of Swinburne as Bostonians made of Browning. They yield up their idol rather than imply their approval of British acts in South Africa.

The president of the club told The Gazette correspondent that "the poet whom Victor Hugo treated as an equal, in taking such an attitude, banishes himself and his works from France forever."

Stone Story Discredited.

SOFIA, Nov. 29.—According to a letter dated Dubnitza, November 28, Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka are still alive. The letter in question further says that at a recent meeting of the committee, held in Dubnitza, it was decided not to kill the prisoners upon any pretext whatever. Nevertheless the committee insisted upon the payment of the full amount of the ransom.

ANOTHER BLOW AT THE AMERICAN HOG

New German Inspection Law Is to Be Enforced Against Foreign Meat.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
BERLIN, Nov. 29.—Symptoms of renewed discrimination against American meat are contained in the announcement of the new imperial inspection laws, which, when passed, are generally supposed to affect domestic as well as foreign produce.

The laws become effective on April 1, 1902, but only so far as imported meat is concerned. The date when German meat is subjected to the rigid new system is left open.

Just how this distinction was reached is unexplained, but prophecy is made that the home butchers will celebrate the fact by a substantial increase in prices.

SUFFERS FROM CRUELTY.

Queen Wilhelmina May Seek a Divorce From the Prince Whom She Recently Married.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 29.—A letter received here from a well-informed correspondent states that "There is no longer any doubt that the queen's illness is due to her consort's ill-treatment. A personal friend of Maj. Vantets, adjutant to the royal household, tells me that Vantets had the courage to interfere once when the consort had actually struck the queen. This led to a duel in which Vantets was dangerously wounded in the stomach and now lies at death's door. Prince Henry has been absent from Loo palace, where the queen is, since the duel occurred. He is officially described as hunting in Germany, but it is believed he has been summoned by the kaiser to explain his behavior."

The original cause of the royal estrangement was the prince's debts, which the queen refused to pay when she found they had been contracted in an "improper manner."

ACTIVITY AMONG REBELS.

Merchant Killed in Batangas Province and People Terrorized.

MANILA, Nov. 29.—The insurgents are active in Batangas province. Brig. Gen. Bell with a battalion of the Fifth infantry, leaves here today to assume command of the troops in Batangas.

Recently the insurgents killed a merchant in the town of Batangas, terrorized the people living in the outskirts of the town, and escaped after a running fight with a small detachment of the Eighth infantry.

Member of Reichsrath Fights a Bloodless Duel With Injured Husband.

TURNS TO JOURNALISM

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
VIENNA, Nov. 29.—Herr Wolf, German nationalist member of the lower house of the Austrian reichsrath, who has been so prominent in riotous scenes in the house, has resigned his seat.

The case of Herr Wolf is similar to that of Charles Stewart Parnell. The injured husband is Prof. Seidl. Herr Wolf and Herr Seidl fought a duel with pistols last Wednesday morning, but neither was hurt. Prof. Seidl is the son-in-law of Dr. Ischau, one of Herr Wolf's colleagues.

The pan-German party were angered with Wolf. At a meeting of the party Wolf's pledge never to re-enter public life was demanded. It is reported that Wolf gave this pledge and that he will now devote himself entirely to the editorship of his newspaper, the Ostdeutsche Runidschau.

Herr Wolf first attained political celebrity by fighting a duel with the then Austrian premier, Count Badeni.

DUKE OF TECK HURT.

Thrown From His Horse He Sustains Concussion of the Brain.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The Duke of Teck was thrown from his horse today while out hunting near Nantwich, Chester, sustaining a concussion of the brain and an injury to his hip.

The Duke of Teck's horse struck a barbed wire-topped fence and pitched the duke violently onto his head. The attending physicians report that the duke's injuries are not alarming and hope for his recovery in a few days.

Prof. Jenks of Cornell, Getting Government Points in Egypt and India.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by the New York Herald Co.)
CAIRO, EGYPT, Nov. 29.—Prof. Jenks, who occupies the chair of economics in Cornell university, who spent three weeks in Egypt studying the present administration and interviewing men of all classes on points that will be helpful to Americans in the future administration of the Philippines, has left for India and the far east for the same object.

The death of Miss Stone awakens the deep interest of all who took an interest in her sad case. Some of the native papers express the hope that America will now force the sultan to reform his government, thus doing what the European powers could not agree to do.

GEN. WOOD IN WASHINGTON.

Cuba Must Have Benefit of Reduced Sugar and Tobacco Duty.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—Gen. Leonard Wood, military governor of Cuba, arrived here tonight. The general will spend some days in Washington in conference with the president and the secretary of war regarding affairs in Cuba. Tonight he and Mrs. Wood paid a social visit to the White House.

Since his last trip to Washington about two months ago, Gen. Wood has traveled over practically the whole island, familiarizing himself with conditions. He will reiterate his previous recommendations for a reduction in the duties on sugar and tobacco imposed by the United States government. Gen. Wood believes this absolutely necessary for the financial rehabilitation of the island and to prevent the recurrence of conditions which existed under Spanish rule.

IRE OF THE ENGLISH FARMERS IS AROUSED AGAINST AMERICAN

They Undertake to Belittle Yankee Supremacy in World's Food Supply.

A COUNTRYMAN'S REPLY

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
LONDON, Nov. 29.—Smarting under the recent published commendations of the wonderful alertness of the American farmers, a section of the British agriculturists are insisting that the Americans are 50 years behind the times, and even ridicule the Yankee tillers of the soil and call them tailors, "a ninth part of a man." The Agricultural Gazette specifically charges the Americans with failure to comprehend the use and value of fertilizer. The paper is quoted as follows:

"Gypsum, one of the least valuable manures and discredited in England a half-century ago, is only now decreasing in the United States. The use of artificial manures has made but little progress on the other side of the Atlantic. The farmyard manure is scarcely used. The rotation of crops which was common here a century ago is still unknown in America. No wonder the yield per acre is small and the average yield of wheat of the United States is only half that of Great Britain."

Edward Owen Greening, one of England's foremost agriculturists, ridicules the statements of the agricultural paper and remarks:

"It is evident the writer has never visited America, otherwise he would not make such absurd charges. The American farmer is working absolutely in different conditions from the English farmer. With almost an unlimited acreage, with magnificent virgin soil, it is unnecessary to bother with manures. Regarding the use of gypsum, while true it is valueless in England, it happens to be particularly suitable for enriching the soil in America. What matter even if the yield per acre is less than half of the English, when one Yankee farm would make 10 or 20 of the English? Equally ridiculous, too, is the talk of the Americans failing to study the rotation of crops."

Catarrh Claims a Multitude of Victims Every Winter,

The Vast Majority of Whom Never Recover.

Will You Be One of Them?

Catarrh is silent and insidious in its ravages, but it pervades nearly every household and hovers like a pestilence over every hamlet and city in our land.

Catarrh (and its legitimate consequences) have desolated more hearthstones, made wretched more happy lives and ended more brilliant careers than all other diseases combined.

Catarrh may end in deafness, blindness, loss of smell, loss of taste or the entire loss of voice.

Diphtheria, bronchitis, pneumonia, consumption and pleurisy begin almost always as the result of a catarrhal attack.

The worst forms of dyspepsia and Bright's disease of the kidneys are also the direct consequences of neglected cases of acute catarrh.

Even when the victims of acute catarrh escape all of the abovementioned liabilities, there remains the great probability of its ending in chronic catarrh.

The only hope of success in the permanent cure of a case of chronic catarrh is to devise some remedy that will stimulate the nerves which supply the capillary blood vessels.

There is but one remedy that has this most desirable effect, and that remedy is Peruna.

This remedy strikes at once at the root of the catarrh by restoring to the capillary vessels their healthful elasticity.

Peruna is not a temporary palliative, but a radical cure.

Mr. Joseph A. Bossong, 454 West 37th street, New York City, N. Y., is Chief Ranger of Court Independence, of the Ancient Order of Foresters of America. He is in the grocery business at 454 West 37th street. He is a young man of splendid stature and physique. He writes as follows:

"In my business I have to be at my store at four o'clock every morning, summer and winter, and I am subject to severe colds from draughts and dampness. Three years ago catarrh attacked me in the head and nose.

"It soon got into my stomach. I suffered from a painful headache from loss of sleep and nervousness. I lost my appetite, and when I did eat heartily of anything that I relished, I had a distressed feeling and my stomach refused to work. I read about others who suffered as I did being cured by Peruna, and I tried it. In two months I was as well as though I never knew what catarrh was, and the first symptoms of the malady has never come back to me since I got rid of it. Ten bottles of Peruna cured me."—J. A. Bossong.

Chronic Catarrh Fifteen Years.

W. S. Arnold, Peachtree, Ga., writes: "I was a victim of chronic catarrh for fifteen years and was cured in two months by Peruna. I had tried every medicine that came under my observation, but my disease only became worse, and I continued to suffer day and night with my head. I would to God everyone knew of the great benefit resulting from the use of Peruna."—W. S. Arnold.

Hon. H. W. Ogden, Congressman from Louisiana, in a letter written at Washington, D. C., says the following of Peruna, the national catarrh remedy:

Hon. H. W. Ogden, of Benton, La.

"I can conscientiously recommend your Peruna as a fine tonic and all-around good medicine to those who are in need of a catarrh remedy. It has been recommended to me by people who have used it, as a remedy particularly effective in the cure of catarrh. For those who need a good catarrh medicine I do not know of nothing better."—H. W. Ogden.

Peruna Cures Catarrh of the Head.

H. E. Vaughn, 335 Washington street, Hamilton, O., writes:

"I took Peruna for catarrh of the head and have received glorious benefits from same. I suffered with catarrh of the head—always felt tired and had a dull headache. My grandfather recommended it to me as it cured him of the worst form of catarrh of the stomach. I weigh forty pounds more than I have for years."—H. E. Vaughn.

A Louisiana Congressman.

Hon. J. Floyd King, ex-Member of Congress from Louisiana, ex-Brigadier General in the Confederate army, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:

"Being personally acquainted with many distinguished men, national statesmen and others of high character from all over the United States, who I observe by the public prints have given their endorsement to your great catarrh remedy, Peruna, I unhesitatingly state that I am convinced it is a medicine which will effect all the cures which is claimed for its use."—J. Floyd King.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Unavailing Effort to Arrest Councilmen--Shot for a Burglar

WAS SHOT DEAD FOR A BURGLAR

After a Thanksgiving Celebration a Donora Man Could Not Find His Home and Lost His Life While Attempting to Enter Another House in the Night.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)
DONORA, PA., Nov. 29.—Edward Jones, aged 37 years, of South Donora, was shot and killed on Thanksgiving night by Joseph Scappia, an Italian, who gave himself up. Jones and a companion were celebrating Thanksgiving day, and, in returning home that evening Jones became confused and was unable to find his home. With his companion he found his way to the residence of Scappia, and began fumbling at the outside door. Scappia was in bed, and thinking they were burglars at work he shouted to them to go away. On the attempt to open the door being continued, Scappia got a revolver and proceeded to cautiously open the front door. Finding two men there trying to force their way in, Scappia fired over their heads to frighten them away. Jones' companion at once left, but Jones refused to leave, and at the next shot the bullet entered the left side of Jones' neck, who fell back dead.

Scappia told some of his neighbors what had occurred, and requested them to notify the local police, which they promised to do, but failed. He then went back to bed. James Scappia, a son employed at the Donora steel works, who had been working all night, returned this morning to find the dead body lying outside of his father's room. The elder Scappia went to the office of Justice of the Peace Castner, who after some consultation allowed Scappia to be released on bail.

TWO ARE DROWNED FROM SMALL BOAT

J. M. Coyle and George Bissett Sink in the Allegheny River.

FREEPORT, PA., Nov. 29.—At Clinton, six miles above here on the Allegheny river, J. M. Coyle and George Bissett lost their lives last night by drowning and James Bissett, a brother of George, was taken from the river in a serious condition. The trio had been at Kittanning and were going to Clinton to join a serenading party. They got off at Kelly station and proceeded to cross the river to Clinton in an old flatboat. They had got well out in the stream when they found the boat was leaking. They made a great effort to pull to the Clinton shore, but the boat filled so rapidly they all jumped overboard, held on to the floating craft and began to cry for help.

Coyle and James could swim, but George Bissett could not. The two thought they would take George and swim to shore, but they soon found they could not and each had to look out for himself. George sank and shortly Coyle went to the bottom. Their cries being heard, a party went out in a boat and rescued James, who was about to sink for the last time, and brought him to shore unconscious. The dead bodies have not been recovered. J. M. Coyle was a son of Barney Coyle of Clinton, aged 33 years. George Bissett was about 24 years old and single. The Bissett brothers worked at a Vandegrift mill.

ORDERED ARREST OF COUNCILMEN

Altoona Chief of Police Was Unable to Find Members of the Common Branch of the City Government, Who Were Wanted to Make Up a Quorum.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)
ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 29.—A session of common council was called for tonight, but a quorum failing to appear when the time for meeting arrived, the presiding officer sent out the chief of police, who is sergeant-at-arms of the body, to hunt up and arrest any councilman whom he might find and thus secure a quorum.

After a hunt of an hour or more, during which time recess was taken, the chief returned and reported to the body he had been unable to learn of the whereabouts of any of the missing members. All those absent remained away for the purpose, it is said, of blocking the confirmation of the bonds of the delinquent tax collectors.

TOWN SHUT IN BY SNOW.

Communication Cut Off Between an Allegheny Mountain Village and Its Environs.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—A heavy snow commenced to fall here this morning. Reports from the surrounding territory are that at many places the snow is quite deep. Oakland, the famous summer resort on the summit of the Alleghanies, has been practically shut in from the world since Sunday last. All the telegraph wires there are down. In the country districts a high wind prevailed, causing the snow to drift on the public highways until they are impassable.

The people in Garnell county depend upon Oakland for their supplies, and as they are shut out by the impassable roads, are at the mercy of the elements.

Many Catholics Swindled.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 29.—A smooth swindler has been working throughout Westmoreland county, his last victim being Father Bemo of Jeannette. He pretends to be a Catholic student for the priesthood and also calls himself Brother John. His devices for swindling extend from soliciting for charities to the sale of periodicals, rosaries and other articles used in worship. His favorite game is to state that he is the accepted agent for prayer books and other periodicals and to secure an advance payment of from $2 to $4 and promise that the nearest priest will deliver the same. He has cleaned up more than $100 from benevolent Catholics in this county.

Long Hair

Ayer's Hair Vigor doesn't make every one's hair grow to a remarkable length. But it does sometimes produce the most marvelous results. This is because it is a hair-food. It feeds the hair, nourishes it; hence stops falling of the hair and always restores color to gray hair.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped my hair from falling and made it grow, until now it is 45 inches long."

MICROBES HAVE JUST ATTACKED THIS HAIR
A—The Hair.
B—The Scalp.
C—Microbes.
D—Food Gland.

Hair needs food to keep it alive.

If the roots have been weakened by the attacks of the scalp microbe, your hair falls sick, falls out, turns gray.

A sure sign of "hair disease" is itching and dandruff.

Heretofore the treatment of diseases of the Hair and Scalp has been a matter of guesswork, without regard to the cause.

In the laboratories of the Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food Co., of New York, the only institute in America devoted to diseases of the hair and scalp, the cause of the disease is learned by means of a Microscopic Examination of the hair, and a cure effected by exact and scientific methods.

The Cranitonic Hair Food and Shampoo Scalp Soap were formulated for the exact purpose of preventing and curing all hair and scalp diseases, and are the only hair and scalp dressings fit to put on the human head.

For purposes of scientific research and investigation, and in the perfection of its formulae, the Cranitonic Hair Food Co. has already expended more than $200,000.

SEND SAMPLE OF HAIR.

In cases where there is excessive falling out of the hair, itching, dandruff or other hair or scalp troubles, you are recommended to send us for microscopic examination a few hairs, or a sample from the daily combings. Our physicians will make a diagnosis and send you a report concerning the condition of your hair without any charge being made for their professional services.

In a microscopical examination of 1,000 different samples of human hair, made in the Cranitonic Institute, 94 different diseases of the hair and scalp were discovered, many of them highly contagious and all fatal to the life of the hair.

Cranitonic Hair Food is for sale by Druggists at $1.00 the bottle, or will be sent direct from Laboratories, expressage prepaid, upon receipt of price.

FREE HAIR FOOD

To prove the wonderful merits of Cranitonic Hair Food, and to convince you that it will stop falling hair, make hair grow, cure dandruff and itching scalp, and that it is the only hair dressing ever formulated fit to put on the human head, we will send by mail, PREPAID, to all who send name and full address, and mention the name of this paper, a dainty sample of Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food and a 48-page illustrated book entitled Hair Care and Testimonials.

It is alleged that on Wednesday afternoon Smith, armed with a search warrant, went to Frey's place and asked that he be allowed to examine the ice boxes for quail and pheasants. The real estate men are now determined to get for this city at least as much federal recognition as has been accorded Braddock and other places of less than half the population, and a bill will be drawn asking for a government appropriation of $125,000. Similar bills in past years have been killed either in the senate or house of representatives.

Deserted One Sister for Another—Arthur Billings of Kirkpatrick avenue, Allegheny, was fined $5 yesterday morning by Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen on a charge of disorderly conduct. In the afternoon he had a hearing before Alderman David McKelvey and fined the same amount on a similar charge preferred by Jay Buchanan. At the morning hearing it developed that Billings had induced Mary Campbell of Cadiz, O., to leave her home, promising to marry her. This he failed to do and induced Miss Campbell to bring her younger sister to the city. When she arrived he left Mary and went with the younger sister. Sunday night he returned home intoxicated and raised a disturbance. The girls promised to return home with their father. Their mother is dying.

A Pitiable Case—Officers John Moore and Frederick K. Lamp of the McKeesport police force have unearthed a pitiable case of suffering in that of the 3-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Greenaway, who has been suffering from fearful burns for several days because the mother has been unable to procure medicine and the attendance of a physician. The dress of the little one caught fire at an open grate and an arm and leg were fearfully burned. Only the timely arrival of a neighbor saved the child. Officers Moore and Lamp were told that a physician was called, but refused to come because there was no one to guarantee his bill. The child may yet die from its injuries and the neglect following them. The case has been laid before the Humane society.

FLOWER IN CONTEMPT.

Director of Copper Company Figures in a Test Case and Is Committed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Judge Lacombe, in the United States circuit court, made an order today holding Aaron R. Flower, a director of the Boston & Montana Copper & Silver Mining Company, guilty of contempt of court and committing him to the custody of United States Marshal Henkel until he shall answer before the commissioner in a suit brought by John MacGuinness against the company.

On motion of counsel for the directors of the company a stay was granted pending an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals.

The case of Mr. Flower was by agreement made a test, as affecting William D. Rockefeller, Henry H. Rogers, J. P. McIntosh, Frederic P. Olcott, James Stillman and Leonard Lewisohn, his fellow directors in the Boston & Montana Company. The action was commenced in Montana and an order issued for the taking of certain testimony here by the commission. Mr. Flower alone appeared before the commissioner and by advice of counsel declined to answer the questions put to him.

FOREIGN ORDERS REFUSED.

Home Demand for Anthracite Coal Shuts Off Exports to France.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—No more foreign orders for anthracite coal are to be accepted by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company for the present. These have become so large and so numerous in the past month that to supply them would seriously interfere with meeting the demand for home consumption. The cargoes already landed in European ports, particularly of France and Germany, have proved so successful in advertising the American article among foreign consumers of coal that almost daily orders from French, German and even English manufacturers are reaching the offices of the Reading company.

Present low rates to European ports on outgoing vessels are principally accountable for the foreign demand. The freight to French ports now costs only $2.87 per ton, the price formerly being at least $4. Agents of the Western railway of France say they are ready to order thousands of tons of American coal if they can continue obtaining it at this price.

Not Taking Sides in Cuba.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Secretary Root has replied to the cable dispatch of Barthelo Maso of Havana, who complained that American officials were assisting Estrada Palma in his contest for the presidency of Cuba. Secretary Root has informed Mr. Maso that United States officials are taking no steps for or against any of the candidates in Cuba.

TAKE A RECORD.

See How Many Friends Are Hurt by Coffee.

It would be just as reasonable for a temperance advocate to drink a little diluted whisky as to drink coffee, for one is as truly an intoxicant as the other, and persistence in the use of coffee brings on a variety of chronic diseases, notorious among which are dyspepsia, heart palpitation (and ultimately heart failure), frequently constipation, kidney diseases, many cases of weak eyes and trembling condition of the nerves.

This is only a small percentage of the great variety of diseases which come from an unbalanced nervous system, caused by the persistent daily use of the drug caffeine, which is the active principle of coffee. Another bit of prima facie evidence about coffee is that the victims to the habit find great difficulty in giving it up.

They will solemnly pledge to themselves day after day that they will abandon the use of it when they know that it is shortening their days, but morning after morning they fail, until they grow to despise themselves for their lack of control.

Any one interested in this subject would be greatly surprised to make a systematic inquiry among prominent brain workers in America. There are hundreds of thousands of our most prominent people that have abandoned coffee altogether and are using Postum Food Coffee in its place, and for the most excellent reasons in the world. Many of them testify that ill-health, nervous prostration, and consequently inability to work has in times past, pushed them back and out of their proper standing in life, which they have been able to regain by the use of good health, strong nerves, and great vitality, since coffee has been thrown out and the Postum put in its place.

STORIES TOLD BY MRS. BONINE

Prosecution Surprises the Defense by Springing Entirely New One.

HAS BEEN REDUCED TO SHORTHAND

Tells What a Suppositious Jealous Woman Might Have Done in Ayres' Room on the Night of the Tragedy—Confessed to Detective

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—District Attorney Gould, who is conducting the prosecution in the Bonine murder trial, scored another surprise on the defense today when he produced in court a statement made by Mrs. Bonine in the office of the Washington chief of police on May 17. This statement was made three days before Mrs. Bonine's confession to the police which resulted in her arrest. The defense did not know it was in existence and pleaded surprise. It was taken down by a shorthand clerk without the knowledge of Mrs. Bonine.

Mrs. Bonine, in the statement produced today, had told the police that Ayres was a model young man, with one fault—the drinking habit. He was, she said, an attractive man to the ladies. She admitted dancing with Ayres on a number of occasions and admitted that her husband was out of town for months at a time. When asked if she was ever in Ayres' room she said that she had often stood in the doorway with Ayres, but never went inside.

The first intimation she had of the death of Ayres, she had said, was when told by some one in the house that the young man had shot himself. She said that if she had been in Ayres' room at the time of the shooting or had been in the place of Miss Minas in the next room, she would have pressed the call bell. This would have been her first thought. She declared she believed a man had shot Ayres, as did all of the women in the hotel. She said a woman could not have committed the crime. She could not believe that any one she knew of could have killed Ayres.

In the statement Mrs. Bonine admitted having liked Ayres very much and thought a great deal of him. She said "some woman" in the house might have committed the crime, but she could not place it upon any one.

Mrs. Bonine admitted that a woman in the house "could have been jealous because Ayres was about to leave," and might have gone to his room to induce him to stay. She might have had a revolver, and after pleading with him to stay might have threatened to kill herself and him, and in the struggle he might have been shot.

Detective Horne, to whom Mrs. Bonine made her confession on May 20, was examined at length about the story she told him. This story was similar to the versions which have been published. Mrs. Bonine told the detective that Ayres came to her room and wished her to get him some medicine. She could not find it, but promised to go to his room and talk over matters, as he said he was going away in the morning.

She went to the door of his room and started to turn the handle of the door when Ayres opened it. He was partly behind the door and half shoved her in, closing the door behind her. She then saw that he was almost naked and had a pistol in his hand. There was a struggle. The revolver was discharged. She started to go out of the door but heard a noise in the hall and went out of the window and up to her room. She washed the blood from her hands in the bathroom, she said, and went to bed.

In describing the manner in which Mrs. Bonine said the struggle had occurred, Detective Horne said she claimed to have been standing with her back to Ayres. His left arm was around her waist and his right hand, containing the revolver, was thrown over her right shoulder. She grabbed the muzzle of the pistol with both hands, and in the struggle the shots were fired. She felt the blood gush over her shoulder, Ayres' body fell upon her, she slipped from her position and arose.

The witness said that a few days before the confession Mrs. Bonine had said to him she "had a thought, but was afraid to express it, because she might do injustice to the dead."

"I told her," continued Detective Horne, "that she could not harm the dead, but she said no more at the time."

More Humiliation for Stone.

Quite unexpectedly the Republican ... committee slapped Gov. Stone in ... face last night. It was a cut and ... slap, but nevertheless only this ... trained to complete the humiliation ... the man who holds the highest office ... in the gift of the voters of the ... commonwealth. The governor, as The ...zette has pointed out, is without ...dorsement even among his own offi... family, but it was expected that ... beneficiaries of his deal for the ...nsfer of the city of Pittsburgh ...uld say something nice about him ... an official way to offset the well-...erited coolness and disfavor of his ...linct. Instead, when they met as ... Republican committee of the city ... Pittsburgh they had only a word of ...anks for the governor's most recent ...eworthy public act, and no praise ... the governor himself, but, in the ...eeches, open and unveiled criticism. ...doubtedly F. C. Beinhauer voiced ... sentiment of the other hun... members of this committee who ...ted for the resolution when he ...nosed even the faint measure of ...ise that appeared therein by impli...tion. In fact, Senator Flinn, who ...nounced, "I cannot agree with my ...nd Beinhauer on this occasion," ...orsed all his friend Beinhauer had ...d. Nevertheless, if it had been ...me politic there might have been ...h praise for the governor as a mere ...ognition of benefit received. But it ...s deemed more politic to, in a meas... fall in with public sentiment and ...ve the governor to his thoughts.

"We do not know," said Mr. Beinhauer, "how long a lease of life we ...ve got in this thing, because we are ...der the finger of Gov. Stone. We ...ouldn't build monuments for any ...an until we are sure that they are ...tting. I must protest against in...sing Gov. Stone."

"It is all true what Mr. Beinhauer ...y," observed Senator Flinn. "We ...ve no certain lease on life. We must ...ke things as we find them * * * ... may turn out our recorder."

All this—evidently carefully prearranged, in an effort to lull the people ... a belief that there is no deal ...th Stone—showing, as it does, a ...owledge of the public mind concern...g the whole iniquitous transaction ...d a disposition to bend before the ...orm until it blows over, is a more ...nvincing indictment of the governor ...an any of the unqualifiedly denun...atory things that have been spoken ...ainst him by others. There was no ...nument built to the governor at ...e city committee meeting that he ...h point to with pride. The epitaph ...repared for his political tombstone ...as not the expected eulogy, but, a ...eclaration of his instability and in...ncerity. It is mercifully withheld ...om the resolution, but if the ...peeches go on the record it will ap...ear there as it appears this morning ... the public prints. The Business Situation.

The intervention of a holiday this week reduced the volume of bank exchanges and closed the speculative markets, but otherwise there was no falling off in business. Very little relief has been experienced in this section from the effects of the car shortage, and iron furnaces have been compelled to cease operations because of the inability to receive raw material. The fact is beginning to be appreciated that this shortage of cars is not due to any temporary congestion of freight, but to the large increase in the output of manufactories. The production of iron and steel in the United States at the present time exceeds all previous records, and yet the supply is not equal to the demand.

No one foresaw the maintenance of this condition of affairs in this most important industry. It is probable that railway managers shared the feeling of other business men that the early part of the year marked the culmination of the boom in trade, and hence did not make the preparation for handling the increased traffic. They were in some measure justified in their conservative course by the shortage of the corn crop, for the latter furnishes more tonnage than any other agricultural product; but other lines of business have for the time being at least supplied the deficiency of the short corn crop, and as a result a scarcity of transportation facilities is reported from nearly all parts of the country.

Whatever may be the ultimate effects of the relatively poor harvests, the farmers of the country are at the moment evening up on their wheat crop. The exports of wheat for November have approximated 21,000,000 bushels, an increase of 7,000,000 bushels over the corresponding month last year, and during the past week the price has advanced in response to a more urgent foreign demand. Corn has also advanced in price, and pork products are higher. There has been less activity in wool, but prices are steady, and there is a tendency toward improvement in the cotton market.

There were no exports of gold this week, and the month closed with a fairly easy money market. Sterling exchange, however, again displays an advancing tendency, and the fresh disturbance in the foreign market for copper may cause Paris to again withdraw credits from London, with the probability that the latter will shift the drain to New York. During the past week the Bank of France reported an expansion of more than $26,500,000 in loans, and an increase of more than $8,000,000 in gold. The Bank of England maintains 4 per cent as its minimum rate of discount, and in view of the impending foreign government loans a drop in discount rates here might easily render gold exports again profitable.

It is a noteworthy fact that the impending session of congress has caused no uneasiness whatever in business circles. Ordinarily there is some shortening of sail on the eve of a meeting of the national legislative body; but despite irresponsible talk to the effect that the administration will assume a radical attitude toward the great trade combinations, no apprehension is expressed and no hesitation is apparent.

Rescue of Miss Stone.

While little credence is placed in the report that Miss Stone, the American missionary abducted by brigands, has succumbed to hardships and exposure, there is no doubt that, if still alive, she is in mental and physical distress. Nearly three months have passed since she was captured by the outlaws, and yet she is apparently no nearer release now than she was then.

At first there was every prospect of success in the concerted movement to raise the sum of money demanded by the brigands, but expectations were not realized when the contributions were reported, and since then there has been little or no effort to complete the fund. The diplomatic representatives of the United States have been trying to bring about the missionary's release, but thus far they have been as unsuccessful as were the ransom raisers. There is strong reason for believing that the brigands will carry out their threat to kill Miss Stone if their demands are not complied with, and there is need of haste if her life is to be saved. It would be a lasting shame to a country so rich as the United States were Miss Stone allowed to perish through lack of the comparatively small sum of money demanded by her captors and through fear of establishing a bad precedent. It is time now for action, and not for haggling over terms. The ransom should be paid, and that very soon, and after that has been done there may be found a way to deal properly with those responsible for the abduction.

The Pardon Board's Reasons.

The reasons given by the board of pardons for the commutation of the death sentence of George W. McMurray, Jr., are lack of motive for the crime and drunkenness of the murderer.

The evidence before the court showed that James Rudge, the man McMurray killed, was his pit boss. Rudge discharged him and refused to reinstate him when McMurray asked him to do so. The second time McMurray went to Rudge he carried a revolver. He renewed his request for reinstatement, and again Rudge refused. Thereupon McMurray killed him.

The court did not find intoxication to be a plea justifying leniency, and, indeed, it would be a dangerous doctrine that permitted men seeking revenge to craze themselves with liquor in order to nerve themselves for the deed and then plead intoxication as a defense to shield them from the consequences of their crime.

Deep sympathy is felt for the innocent relatives of all criminals, but the wrong-doers themselves should think of their relatives before committing crime. The greater sympathy should be for the victims of murderers and for their families. They are beyond the help of pardoning authorities.

A Troubled Queen.

When Queen Wilhelmina, the young ruler of the Netherlands, accepted a German army captain to be her husband there was universal acceptance of the report that it was a love match, and so it was, on her part, but developments strongly indicate that the youthful queen was infatuated with a man unworthy of her. Her subjects made no effort to conceal their opposition to the proposed marriage, but in the end Queen Wilhelmina succeeded in placating them and the man of her choice was elevated to the rank of prince consort.

There was a sympathetic interest in Wilhelmina long before she ascended the throne, because of the youth of the girl who was soon to be burdened with the cares of state, and there was a feeling of sympathy even in this faraway republic when it was believed that she had been happily married. But Prince Henry, if the current reports are correct, has proved an unworthy and undesirable match.

All the world loves a lover, but all the world despises a recreant, and thus it comes about that there are only words of censure for Prince Henry, while for the heartsore queen there is widespread sympathy.

Publicity has its admitted advantages. Samuel Hager, the old soldier, is not to be removed from his place in the delinquent tax office. The removing power has taken a second thought and the appointing power has confirmed him in his present position.

Mr. Terry McGovern is another example of how difficult it is to elevate the stage and protect a championship at one and the same time.

The people who annually offer high moral objections to the Santa Claus fable are about due to appear in the periodicals.

Queen Wilhelmina seems to be another representative of European royalty who has drawn a blank in the matrimonial market.

Snow in Kentucky would seem to indicate a necessity for Col. Henry Watterson's presidential boom to take to gum boots.

Congress will exclude the Chinaman, but Minister Wu will always be welcome to the best we have.

After the sensationalism of the Bonine murder trial congress will seem very tame to Washington.

A Good Word for Rich Men's Sons.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Such of the newspapers as continue to slur the sons of rich men merely because they are such, continue only to make themselves ridiculous. The sons of rich men do not really differ from the sons of poor men. At this moment a young man named George Gould is doing better work than his father did before him. Another young man named Vanderbilt is working many hours a day upon the most approved inventive lines. The sons of two prominent local capitalists, Widener and Elkins, are busy in their respective businesses, and there are scores of others who might be named in every city in the union doing something of equal worth. They have accepted the responsibilities of wealth with a manliness which does them credit, and they are discharging its duties with intelligence, vigor and good faith. In view of these facts is it not about time that the talk about the sons of rich men should be narrowed to what the sons themselves do?

Devery Has Two Clubs for Fighting Removal.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 29, 1901.

Policemen are discussing their new commissioner. They know now that he is Col. John M. Partridge, and that he will take his position on January 1. What the colonel means to do he has said in a newspaper interview, but none of the papers here have said what the sentiment is among the rank and file of the force. Perhaps they think it does not make any difference. It is interesting to all who have given any attention to police matters in this city to know that the force is pleased with the appointment of Col. Partridge. Patrolmen and others of subordinate grades in the department have received assurance, judging by the commissioner-elect's record, that he will not clean out Tammany policemen, as some of his fusionist friends think he will. The new commissioner believes in giving every man a chance. So far as he is concerned, every policeman will start with a clean slate, and there will be none of the wholesale decapitations that have been predicted. For the rest, the popular opinion is that Mayor Low could not have selected a better man for this responsible post. Of course, Devery will go. It is declared positively that he will be fired out within an hour or two of Col. Partridge taking his seat as commissioner. Then will come a fight by the deputy commissioner to retain his place as chief of police. He has two separate hands to play. In the first place, he has a suit in court which has not been decided, maintaining that the appointment of a single-headed commission was unconstitutional, and that he could not be removed as chief of police by its provisions. Should the courts decide against him on this he has another argument, to the effect that he has never ceased to be chief of police, and that he was only "detailed" as deputy commissioner. If this plea holds good the only thing to be done with Devery will be to retire him on a pension. Bulldog persistence is a capital quality in a policeman, and no one can deny that quality in Devery.

Sleighing for a Champagne Prize.

New York really has had its first snow. It came today, and it was heavy enough to allow of sleighing and the winning of a magnum of champagne at each of the roadhouses in the upper part of New York that give that hospitality to the first person reaching there with a sleigh each winter. Sleighing was good in Central park and far on the Speedway, save in spots where the brisk wind from the Hudson swept the snow away, and the men with the fast steppers who were competing for the champagne prizes made excellent time. There were many persons abroad on the roads leading to the roadhouses to see the annual sprint, and many of them seemed to derive as much pleasure from the spectacle as did the winners from the champagne. Considering what a hustling town this is, it is remarkable how interested some of its people can be in pure sport, with not a dollar in it for them.

Alleged Short Measure to Importers.

The question whether importers of spirituous liquors get full measure or not has been the subject of inquiry at the United States appraisers' office in this city. The liquor is gauged on the assumption that in each case of a dozen bottles there are three gallons of liquor within a small fraction. One firm of importers' agents for an English distillery, objected to the duty assessed on the plea that their cases did not contain three gallons, but only two and one-eighth gallons. This was allowed by the appraiser, and their duty reduced, making a difference of hundreds of dollars to the firm in the course of a year. It should be said, however, that, although in this instance the quantity runs short, the cases imported by most of the agents in New York contain the full measure, and when one buys a quart of brandy, whisky, gin or what not, he usually gets his full quart.

Croker May Quit England.

Richard Croker is understood to have made up his mind to stay in New York. He will not return to Wantage until late in the spring, and in the meantime will give his attention to reorganizing Tammany hall with the idea of carrying the municipal election two years hence. Whether this is the truth or not, it most assuredly is the gossip. It is even said that Croker may sell Wantage and his English stables and settle down again as a New Yorker, in the hope that he may retrieve himself politically. He first that absentee leadership is as unpopular with his Irish constituency as is absence landlordism on the old sod.

Tammany and Hill Can't Mix.

A prominent Democrat in the Hoffman house this afternoon took the trouble to ridicule the rumor that Richard Croker and D. B. Hill will form an alliance, said he: "Tammany hall, representing Croakerism, means that W. C. Whitney shall be the Democratic nominee for president of the United States. Hill is for Hill, and no one else. The senator has had the presidential bee in his bonnet for many years, and he is not likely to let it escape now to oblige Whitney or anyone else."

Terry's Brooklyn Friends Gloomy.

Gloom reigned in sporting circles of Brooklyn today. The defeat of "Terrible Terry" in Hartford yesterday was a deadening blow to some hundreds of Brooklynites who thought the little boxer invincible. All kinds of hysterical utterances have come from the McGovern headquarters today, and if the young man is not soon reinstated as featherwight champion by his knocking somebody's "block" off, he may have nervous prostration. It might not be supposed that a prize fight in Connecticut would have such a powerful effect upon the spirits of hardened New Yorkers; but the fact is that Terry has been such a pet in this big town, especially in that portion of it known as Brooklyn, that the surprise given by "Young Corbett" has been felt as a public calamity.

Fooled by Vegetable Turkey.

Thanksgiving turkey that was not actually turkey was one of the culinary paradoxes in Brooklyn yesterday. Carl Rasmussen, who keeps a restaurant, promised that he would serve "vegetarian roast turkey" in his establishment, and that his guests would not know that it was anything but a real bird, because he would not tell them until after the repast. He kept his word. There was real turkey and vegetarian turkey on the bill of fare, and one could not tell one from the other by the flavor and general nature of the dishes. Afterward he told his patrons what they had been consuming, and those who had eaten the vegetarian turkey could hardly believe the evidence of their own senses. This is how he made the pretended turkey as analysis showed. The bones were composed of macaroni baked to the consistency of real bones. The neck was of celery stalks. Ground nuts and vegetables composed the body, while a few shreds of white cabbage made up the fatty parts. The crackling brown skin that seemed a triumph of culinary skill was only red cabbage, carefully rolled round the body and baked, while the drumsticks were made of celery stalks. The restaurant man would not deny that there was a little real turkey in the dish to give it the right twang, so it must be assumed that the "bird" was not altogether vegetable.

Tapir Judicially Worth $5,000.

A tapir is worth in the New York courts $5,000. What it would be valued at by the Allegheny county judiciary remains to be seen, if a similar suit to that in the supreme court, Brooklyn, today ever comes up in Pittsburgh. Donald Burns sued the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company for $25,000 for personal injuries and the loss of a tapir. Burns is a wrestler—or was—and on July 6 was on his way to Bergen Beach in a wagon with a tapir, which he intended to exhibit at the beach. A trolley car ran into the wagon and threw Burns and the tapir out. The animal got away and strolled around until it caught a fatal cold. It is now stuffed—one of the ornaments of Princeton university. Burns cannot wrestle because he was seriously injured in the smash-up. The court awarded him $7,500, which is understood to be $5,000 for the tapir and $2,500 for himself.

Mayor-Elect Breaks His Rule.

Mayor-elect Low seemed to be pleased today that he had a little news for the reporters who assiduously storm his front door, although he has said he will never be interviewed at his home. But Mr. Low is a good-natured man, and often breaks his rule. He smiled as he told the reporters that he had offered the position of commissioner of police to Mr. Partridge and that the gentleman would accept. Mr. Low has had every office in his gift settled on this and that aspirant over and over again, and it is remarkable that he has been able to keep the slate-makers at bay so well. Only two appointments has he announced, and simply because it would have been injurious to the interests of the city to keep them secret until January 1. Mr. Low has had experience with office seekers in the past, and he knows pretty well how to deal with them; but it is a trying task for him to dodge the questions that are hurled at him day after day and still never lose his temper. When he takes his seat as mayor of Greater New York, in five weeks' time, he will surely feel as if he has been mayor for a month or so, with all the annoyances of the office and none of the compensating honors and comforts.

First Tunnel Station.

The first station to be finished in the rapid transit tunnel will be at Sixtieth street. This may be said with tolerable certainty, because the station has progressed so far that one can tell what it will be like, and is a great deal ahead of every other station on the road. It shows that there will be a great deal of room, and that the walls will be lined with glazed tiles, and that the whole affair will be neat and cheerful. The stairs have been made, and a few days of hard work would be sufficient in which to make the station ready for use. It is the intention to have each station in the tunnel finished in a distinctive way, so that passengers looking out of the car windows can tell at a glance where they are, even before reading the name of the station. On the "L" road, it is pointed out, passengers can see by familiar landmarks where they are, but underground all stations would look alike were there not a difference in their decorations. New Yorkers begin to feel that "Harlem in 15 minutes" from down-town is not so much a myth as it sounded when the catchword was first uttered. The tunnel is getting toward the point when it will soon be a real underground railroad and the streets will be relaid and resume their wonted aspect. They have been in bad shape for a great many months now.

It Was an Orderly Holiday.

It is remarked that Thanksgiving day brought less business to the police courts today than is usual after a holiday. Possibly the fine weather had something to do with it. The sun shone so cheerfully and the air was so bracing that there seemed to be little disposition toward disorder, and there were few arrests. No murders were reported. Unhappily, it has been a common thing in New York for some such crime to take place on Thanksgiving and Christmas day.

Ambruster's Lecture Recital.

One of the unique entertainments to be given here that will be in Pittsburgh later in the season is the lecture recital by Carl Ambruster on "The Life and Works of Richard Wagner." It is to take place next Friday in Mendelssohn hall, in this city. The lecture will be illustrated with vocal excerpts from "The Flying Dutchman," "Tannhauser," "Rienzi," "Lohengrin," and "Tristan and Isolde," sung by Pauline Cramer.

SPEAKING OF THE GOVERNOR.

Surely Pennsylvania's cup of shame is nearly full.—Indiana Gazette.

Gov. Stone has now proved himself to be a corrupt politician and has disgraced the high office which he occupies. The governor wants to be United States senator and evidently believes that William Flinn can do him more good than the Brown people. The people of Pennsylvania have no favors for a man who will sell out his friends and make a farce of state laws.—Butler Herald.

The gist of the whole matter seems to be Gov. Stone's ambition to be United States senator, and he seems to have been holding the power put in his hands by the "ripper" law as a club over the head of Quay to force him to agree to his schemes, and failing to secure any promises from that source, went back to Flinn, or at least lived up to some previous agreement with him.—Butler Citizen.

It is now reported that the new recorder of Pittsburgh will enter into a veritable carnival of "ripping," and that official heads will fall in all directions. This is not probable. If Gov. Stone, as he alleges, removed Maj. A. M. Brown because he thought Maj. Brown did not pursue a sufficient conservative course, he cannot afford to permit the new recorder to pursue a less conservative course.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

While his action is entirely satisfactory to the old ringsters who are now all back in power, it has raised a storm of indignation not only among the so-called Pittsburgh reformers, but throughout the state, and it is doubtful if Gov. Stone could have done anything else that would have made him so unpopular with those who were his friends. Proof of this is found in the haste Senators Quay and Penrose and the executive's own Attorney General John P. Elkin have displayed in washing their hands of the dirty job. Gov. Stone seems that he received a cent for the exercise of his removal power and what he says may be true, but he was certainly foolish for not having made a good round sum out of the deal that has every appearance of being his political suicide.—Mt. Pleasant Journal.

Maj. A M. Brown, who was appointed by Gov. Stone as recorder of Pittsburgh when that city was given a new charter by the last legislature, has been removed, also by Gov. Stone, and the management of the city's affairs has gone back into the hands of the money-grabbing ring from which the good people sought to free themselves. Maj. Brown has been succeeded by J. O. Brown, former director of the department of public safety, one of the leaders of the Flinn crowd, and a man who can be depended upon to do Flinn's bidding. The governor gives his reasons for Maj. Brown's removal in an address to the people of Pittsburgh's, printed in Friday's papers, a document he had better never given to the public, for, tested by the governor's former actions, it proves him to be a past master in political jobbery; and, when up against the known action and the statements of Maj. Brown, the governor's reputation for truth and veracity receives a disastrous jolt. The question asked by most people in this neck o' woods is, "What sort of a club does Flinn hold over the governor's head?" One thing certain: Gov. Stone will have to be content with the praise of the Pittsburgh ring for this performance. He gets none from any other quarter.—Mercer Dispatch (Republican).

Gov. Stone started out well by the appointment of Major A. M. Brown, a man whose high character and ability gave immediate confidence to the new administration. Notwithstanding the confusion consequent upon the removal of the mayor, he entered upon the duties of his office, and had he been allowed to administer it without interference from the governor, he would have given the people of Pittsburgh an honest, able administration. Asked to retain the heads of departments, he consented, only to find them conspiring to make his administration odious and defeat its aims. Determining to remove them, he consulted Gov. Stone, and his action was temporarily stayed. But finally things came to such a pass that he was forced to act or fail in organizing an effective administration. The enemies of the recorder at once declared they would have his head. These threats were repeated until the people began to feel there must be some ground for their claim. Yet they felt that no public man could be so lacking in recognition of his obligations to the people, so false to the friends to whom he owed his elevation, so void of honor as to perpetrate such a deed. They were mistaken. William A. Stone was equal to the task. Turning a deaf ear to his former friends, influenced by some selfish, sordid, vicious motive, he raised his traitorous hand and felled with one stroke the hopes of the people of his adopted city. Thus was paralyzed temporarily the movement which had for its object the reform of Pittsburgh's government, and thus was restored to power and the spoils the machine against whose efforts William A. Stone was chosen chief executive of this commonwealth. In parsing the ripper bill, Gov. Stone took a personal interest. Now he has turned his back upon all that it represented for the people of Pittsburgh, and has appointed the head of the machine to the recordership. Nothing approaching such treachery has been found in the political annals of the state. He should receive as he deserves, the just condemnation of every honest citizen of the commonwealth.—Butler Eagle.

PERSONALS.

Judge R. H. Knight of Los Angeles, Cal., is a guest at the Lincoln. "I arrived in your city on the first large snowfall and got my feet dampened by it for the first time in 11 years. When I left home on Thursday my Chinese servant brought me in a bushel of cut roses from my garden, and the day was as balmy as one of the early June days in Pittsburgh. When I left home a heliotrope in my garden was in full bloom. It is 14 feet high and has a spread of 16 feet. For eight years it has been in continual bloom and the breath of a frost has never nipped it. I was born near St. Clairsville, O., and left there when I was 12 years of age. I went to Iowa, then to Southern Kansas, and later to California. When I arrived in Los Angeles it was a city of 45,000 inhabitants. Now it has a population of about 150,000 and more miles of electric street railway than any other city in the world. Our electric railways run to the seacoast and from Los Angeles to San Gabriel. By the way, the San Gabriel mission is one of the oldest missions in America. During the revolutionary war the brick for this mission was being shipped from Spain and the 'padres' were having the California Indians carry the timber from the mountains to build the mission. When I left home the orange crop was ripening. The output this year will be the greatest in the history of the state. The trees were heavy with the fruit and the growers were propping them up. The production promises to be wonderful. The wheat and barley crops promise to be large, and the fields were in excellent condition."

N. E. Sanford, representing the Long Syrup Refining Company of San Francisco, is at the Griswold. "California," said Mr. Sanford, "is now producing the best fruit in the world. For many years the flavor of the fruit was objected to by eastern buyers, but this has been overcome. The best fruit growers of the east were brought to California, and by scientific means our product was improved until now when we ship the finest fruit in the world. Ten years ago the California lemon was not worth picking off the trees, but today it is the equal of the best lemon imported from Italy. The first California fruit sent east was in tins, then the dried product was shipped, followed by the natural fruit itself."

The Hon. Ernest F. Acheson of Washington, Pa., H. Bird Cassel of Lancaster, H. C. Van Voorhis of Zanesville, and Gen. Charles Dick of Akron were passengers to Washington last night. Gen. Dick is chairman of the national committee, and chairman of the Ohio state committee. "We will have a very busy session of congress, said Gen. Dick, "but I don't think there will be any revision of the tariff, as there is no demand for a change."

The Hon. Mark Hanna went to Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad last night. "Freight congestion," said Senator Hanna, "has closed up a number of furnaces about Cleveland. Coke shipments are badly delayed, but I think present conditions will not last long. No, I will not discuss Pennsylvania politics, and it is too early to talk about the national election or the candidates."

The Paint and Drug club of Pittsburgh held its second annual meeting in the Hotel Henry last night. The affair closed with a banquet, after a vacancy in the offices was filled. The banquet was presided over by President H. M. Preston. Charles F. Nevin was elected vice-president, to fill a vacancy. The toastmaster of the evening was C. O. Smith.

Thomas S. McCrea, representing the American Lead Pencil Company, is registered at Newells. "Pittsburgh," said Mr. McCrea, "consumes more lead pencils than any other city in the country. We have a very large trade here and are often pushed to fill our orders. The lead pencil trade in this country runs into the millions annually."

Speaker W. T. Marshall, of the Pennsylvania legislature, went to Harrisburg last night. "We expect to wind up the affairs of the Pennsylvania executive's committee of the Buffalo exposition within a few days. The appropriation was $35,000, nearly all of which I think was exhausted."

Adams Express Company officials in and around this territory held a dinner at the Hotel Henry last night. Covers were laid for 35 guests, all of whom were present. The object of the dinner was to devise ways and means to hasten the holiday traffic over the express lines.

Hon. Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland passed through Pittsburgh with his family last night, to Philadelphia. They go to Philadelphia to witness the football game today between the teams from the naval academy and West Point.

E. E. Bonneville, manager of the Hotel Henry, and his wife are in New York arranging for the furnishing of the new addition of the hotel.

Capt. Samuel S. Brown and Capt. John Morin went to Cincinnati last night to meet the coal fleet on its arrival in that city.

Elephant Catcher Needed.

From the Scientific American.

An elephant catcher rather than a cow catcher seems to be needed in India. On the railroad between Bengal and Assam, according to the Railroad Gazette, as the superintendent of the line was making an inspection trip, while passing through the great Namber forest, the train came to a stop with a jolt that threw the travelers out of their berths. The train had run into a herd of wild elephants which were trotting down the track, the last of which had both hind legs broken and was thrown into the ditch, while the engineer counted seven others which got away. This is not the first time that wild elephants have got on the track, and ordinary fences and cattle guards are no protection.

The end of the trust business is not yet in sight. There is a lively movement now on to form a combination of the lake dredging interests.—Erie Dispatch.

With the extensive railroad betterments, the work on the new capitol, the construction of important additions to the State hospital, the extension of trolley lines and the proposed improvements under the direction of the city, added to a greater building boom next spring, can anybody doubt the continuing prosperity of this city of ours?—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The most sublime lunatic, if not the meanest mortal that ever breathed, died in West Virginia last week. He left his wife and nine children each $1, a watch and a gold ring. It is rumored that the candidacy of Senator J. Henry Lichren for the next Democratic nomination for governor is simply a bluff in the interest of J. K. P. Hall. It is certainly possible. If Mr. Hall gets the nomination, the state Democracy "will not do a thing but pull his leg," as the boys would remark. Elk county money will circulate all over the state.—Ridgway Advocate.

The pull of the American locomotive is tremendous. It has driven through the prejudice of nations. New Bavaria falls under its spell. There the royal railway administration, whatever that may be, after having put several of our machines to severest test, declares these are "none such." Well, it's something to say that Altoona builds the very best of those world-beating locomotives.—Altoona Gazette.

Balmy breezes 12 months in the year and flower gardens perpetually abloom, with zero weather unknown, may form a very desirable combination, but without snowflakes to fleck one in the face when he steps outdoors and a crispness in the air that sends the blood tingling to toes and finger tips, it lacks some of the elements of completeness. Variety is the spice of life in weather as in other things. There is a good reason for the superiority of the people who live in temperate zones. The boy who never had a chance to slide down hill or the snow may become a great man, but he labors under a disadvantage.—Johnstown Tribune.

Some idea of the enormous freight business can be had from the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's yards at Youngwood contain more cars, loaded and sidetracked, than could be moved in a week, without counting the daily additions that increase the blockade. This state of affairs is equally true not only of almost the entire division, but of other roads as well. Of course, new motive power is being added as fast as possible, but it will be some time before the railroads can catch up with the country's wonderful progress, and, in the meantime, people dependent upon them will have to grin and bear it.—Mt. Pleasant Journal.

COURT REFUSES AN INJUNCTION

Doolittle Glass Company Can Operate Its Plant in Any Locality.

IRON AND STEEL CO. FILES AN ANSWER

Jurisdiction of the United States Court Denied by Kane-Maloney Corporation—Petitions in Bankruptcy Filed.

In the United States circuit court Judge M. W. Acheson refused a preliminary injunction for want of specifications in the case of David A. Nease against the Doolittle Glass Company, and discharged the restraining orders heretofore made. The plaintiff sought to compel the defendant company to operate a glass plant at Lazarville, West Virginia, and prevent them from disposing of any stock or property of the company.

The receivers of the Republic Savings and Loan association were ordered to sell certain property in Bloomsburg and Port Allegheny for $3,000.

In the United States district court an answer was filed to the petition in bankruptcy by the Kane-Maloney Iron and Steel Company. The common pleas court No. 2 had appointed receivers and the answer claims that the United States district court has no jurisdiction in the case and asks that the petition be dismissed.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Louis J. Koch, a merchant of New Castle, giving his liabilities at $4,703 95 and assets $1,889 03. A petition in bankruptcy was filed against Louise J. Chaffee of Bradford claiming that while insolvent she transfered property with intent to favor a particular creditor.

Jacob K. Whitman, Watsontown; Peter Jennson, Warren, and Quincy A. Ruff of Greensburg were discharged from bankruptcy.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

W. H. Whiteleather wants $500 damages from O. T. Staub for an alleged personal assault.

Suit was entered by Clara Andree against Supreme Tent, Knights of Maccabees, for $1,000 on a policy taken out by her husband, Henry W. Andree.

William Reed filed a bill in equity against the public school district of Jefferson township to compel it to carry out an agreement for the exchange of property.

J. Frank Curry sued the Adams Express Company for the loss of two telescopes through shipment. He says they contained valuable plans, and asks for $2,000 damages.

The defendant in the equity suit of Brace Bros. against the Pennsylvania Water Company filed exceptions to a decree in court. The action was for breach of contract to supply water, and the plaintiff was awarded $136.

Executions were issued as follows: David Miller vs. John Hammer, $36; Margaretha Mihm vs. Leopold Einstein, $2,307; J. M. & J. J. Wittman vs. Joseph Schiwig et al., $394; Fred Dean vs. H. M. Lynn et ux., $28; Mary Clark vs. J. W. Clark, $200.

W. J. Thubron entered suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to recover $2,000 for the death of Annie V., a mare with a record of 2:16¾. The plaintiff shipped the animal from Johnstown to Butler and it was killed in a wreck near Blairsville.

Mary Stevens sued Theodore Hill, a Franksstown avenue druggist, for $5,000 damages. She alleges she purchased some Rochelle salts from a clerk at the defendant's store, and the latter gave her carbonate of potash instead. She says that she became violently ill, requiring the attention of a physician and nurses.

Ellen A. Armstrong sued Samuel Dickson, executor of the estate of Robert Crawford, for $500 damages. She alleges she held two notes against the estate, and that the defendant told her that it was not necessary to present them, as they would remain a lien upon the estate. The plaintiff alleges that this was a misrepresentation.

Pappie Chottiner wants $2,000 damages from M. Schraeder for alleged breach of promise to marry. The plaintiff says that on August 20, last, the defendant asked her to be his wife and she consented. It was arranged that they should be married within two weeks, the plaintiff says, but Schraeder did not carry out his promise. He married Bincher Prager.

Suit was entered by F. B. Coll against the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. Coll is a carpenter, and was employed by the defendant company. He claims that while he was absent from his work a shafting in a workshop was changed, consequently a circular saw was running so fast he could not see it. He says that, not knowing this, he attempted to wipe off the saw table with his hand, and in doing so he lost several fingers by coming in contact with the saw.

YEARLY REPORT ON RAILROADS

Maj. Isaac B. Brown Sums Up the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

ITS THREE LINES SHOW GOOD BUSINESS

On the Pennsylvania Railroad the List of Fatalities and Injuries Is Much Larger Than Last Year. Others Have Less Increase.

Maj. Isaac B. Brown, chief of the state bureau of railways, gives the following statistics concerning the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901:

Capitalization, $354,716,174, divided into $206,163,965 capital stock, $83,587,840 funded indebtedness, and $65,014,339 other forms of indebtedness, including current liabilities. Assets, $881,527,836, divided into $78,186,904 for cost of road owned, $42,978,824 for equipment owned, $185,-774,304 for stocks and bonds owned, $45,827,103 for cash and current assets, and $28,760,701 for other assets.

Locomotives, 2,141; passenger cars, 1,935; freight cars, 95,724. Number of employes, 72,193, to whom was paid $41,856,462. Passenger service carried 43,840,123 persons, with a total revenue of $19,523,446.

In addition to operating expenses $28,742,003 was paid out, making the total expenditure $90,856,136. A dividend of $9,089,076 was paid stockholders, leaving a surplus for the year of $1,726,244.

The total number of fatal accidents for the year was 637, only 28 being passengers. The number of people injured was 5,814, with 524 passengers. This is an increase of more than 100 fatalities, and more than 1,000 injuries.

Pennsylvania Company Does Well.

WANTED A BABY GIRL.

Wife Charges Husband With Cruelty Because Their Child Was a Boy.

The master in the divorce case of Christina Warner against George Challmer Warner, formerly a car conductor of Sharpsburg, filed his report recommending that a decree be granted. They were married at Steubenville, O., May 25, 1897, and separated August 30, 1899.

The libellant says her husband was cruel, that he threw plates at her and because their child was a boy he became angry, and while ill he asked her how long it would be before she could take in sewing as it was her turn to make the living. She says that when the child died he would not go to the funeral, and upon one occasion, when it was living, he nearly choked it to death by forcing the neck of a bottle down the child's throat. Mrs. Warner said she was afraid of her husband as he threatened to shoot her, and that he always carried a revolver with him.

PITTSBURGHER TO BE PROMOTED

J. D. Lippincott Is Scheduled to Succeed James Means as Division Freight Agent.

IS VERY POPULAR IN THIS CITY

He Leaves the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley and the Anchor Line. Walter Thayer Will Succeed Him as Special Agent.

J. D. Lippincott will succeed to the position of division freight agent of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad at Pittsburgh, January 1, upon the retirement of James Means.

Mr. Lippincott is now special agent of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad, and agent for the Anchor line of steamers, operated by the same company from Erie and Cleveland. Until a few weeks ago, he had charge of the Pittsburgh freight of the Ohio River railroad, but the absorption of that line by the Baltimore & Ohio united the agencies of the two companies.

Walter Thayer, now freight solicitor, under Division Freight Agent G. H. Cobb of the Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, will succeed Mr. Lippincott with the Valley and the Anchor line. Mr. Thayer is a brother of J. B. Thayer, Jr., general freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The new division freight agent of the Panhandle here is a Pittsburgher born and bred. He entered railroad service in the office of Mr. Means in 1880 and was there for nine years. One year was spent with the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, for which company he organized the Pittsburgh commercial agency. He then took the Ohio River and Western New York & Pennsylvania, later the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division agency, for the Pennsylvania, and a few years ago was given also the Anchor line duties. He is thoroughly familiar with the freight situation in this locality, and has many friends who will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

Pittsburgh Recognized by B. & O.

Pittsburgh is receiving from the new management of the Baltimore & Ohio much distinction in the new division arrangements of that system. The long residence here of the president, general manager, his assistants and members of the board has doubtless helped not a little to bring this condition about. Under the new division of officers the city takes rank with any other outside of the road's headquarters, Baltimore, not merely in title but in actual mileage operated from Pittsburgh. The division over which it is planned to extend the general superintendency of W. R. Woodford includes about 1,000 miles of railroad, a large portion of which is fine double-track line. This scheme of division, when carried out to its logical end, will bring all the Baltimore & Ohio lines in the soft coal country under the supervision of Mr. Woodford.

Not Present at Committee Meeting.

For several reasons, all of which were explained in their regrets, the leading officials of Pittsburgh railroads found it impossible to meet yesterday afternoon with the members of the railroad transportation committee of the chamber of commerce to confer on the freight situation. General Superintendent W. R. Woodford, who had been detained in the yards of the Baltimore & Ohio through the strike of the switchmen, alone showed up at the rooms of the chamber, and as he was an hour late, the committee had left. Col. J. M. Schoonmaker had been called to Boston, and James McCrea and Robert Pitcairn were both busy elsewhere. The committee could take no action, and until another date, when the railroad officials can attend, nothing definite toward settling the questions will be attempted.

Union Station for Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—(Special)—A conference, having in view the building of a big union station for all the railroads entering Washington, will be held here Tuesday, between President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad; Senator McMillan of the senate committee on District of Columbia affairs, and President Burnham of the National Parking commission.

Bridge Plans Almost Completed.

A. P. Boller of Boller & Hodge, bridge engineers of New York, is in the city completing the plans for the new Wabash bridge, across the Ohio river near Mingo Junction. The plans will likely be submitted to the war department of the federal government next week and, as soon as the approval of that department and of the rivermen can be secured, the contracts will be let and the work started. The bridge has a main channel span of 650 feet and is 90 feet above high-water mark. Like its mate across the Monongahela, in this city, it is of the cantilever type. Its total length will be 1,200 feet.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The dining car service of the Baltimore & Ohio from Cleveland to Pittsburgh is proving a drawing card.

General Passenger Agent C. W. Bassett of the Pittsburgh & Western, will leave this evening for a couple of weeks' absence, visiting his ranch in California.

Lake Shore and Nickel Plate engineers are working out the plans for using Lake Shore tracks in Cleveland exclusively for passenger business, the Nickel Plate taking care of the freight traffic.

Gray Hair A Crime?

Thousands of men and women are turned out of positions and many fail to secure situations because their gray hairs make them look old. This need not be.

Hay's Hair-Health

makes age halt and keeps thousands in employment because it takes years from their apparent age. HAIR-HEALTH will positively restore gray, faded or bleached hair to its youthful color. It is not a dye. Its use cannot be detected. Equally good for men and women.

Gentlemen,—At forty my hair and mustache began turning gray. A friend on my road lost his place because his gray hair made him look older than he was. Profiting by his experience, I began using Hay's Hair-Health, with the result that I have the same dark-brown curly hair that I had at 21. Have held my position, although many younger men, whose only fault was their gray hair, have been dismissed. I thank you for my position.

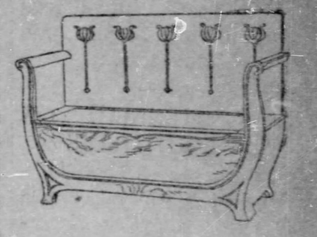
hall settles—



Nothing reveals the efforts we have made to have the largest and most complete selection of good furniture more than the pleasing number of designs we show in upholstered pieces for the hall, library and parlor.

The entire second floor is devoted to the exhibition and sale of these goods. A visit to this department is entertaining to people who like beautiful productions even when they have no thought of buying.

The magnitude of the stock, with its almost endless opportunity for selection, is, however, not the most fascinating feature you will see in this department.

The prices get quite as much attention.

It's surprising, in fact, how low some of the prices are on really handsome productions, made of reliable materials and in the latest designs.

The above cut illustrates our $29 Hall Settle. The Settle is made of quartered golden oak, is 55 inches long by 40 high and has box in seat..... $29.00

Backs that are tired—weary—worn out.

Backs that are lame—weak—aching. Bad Backs—sick backs—backs that ache like a toothache—that keep you awake nights with their never ceasing pains and aches—that are the burden of the day should not be neglected. Backache is the Kidneys' cry for help—neglect its warning means many Kidney ills—Urinary troubles—Diabetes—Bright's disease. There is a certain cure—

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

A modern remedy for every Kidney ill—for Kidneys only—goes right to the spot. Not an experiment but a proven cure endorsed by the people you know.

PITTSBURGH PROOF!

FOURTH AVENUE.

"Two years ago while camping out during a rainy spell I caught a severe cold which settled in my back. For four days and a half I sat in a camp chair, all doubled up. Any attempt to straighten up brought the most intense pain. A country physician, who was called, administered morphine, and with the help of my friends I succeeded in getting home. Mrs. Joachin knew of the value of Doan's Kidney Pills, and got me a box at Fleming's drug store. The first box brought relief, but not cure. I continued using the pills, however, until within a couple of months I was as well and strong as ever. My whole system seemed to be strengthened and helped. I have had one slight attack of the trouble since, but a few doses of the pills fixed me all right in a remarkably short time. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate this wonderful remedy.

"WINFIELD JOACHIN,
"419 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh."

LIBERTY STREET.

Daniel Jones, a well-to-do rug weaver, who lives at No. 4824 Liberty street, says: "I had suffered for some time with pains in my back before it occurred to me that my kidneys weren't doing their duty. There was a dull ache in my loins, and sharp, shooting pains through my back every time I stooped or tried to lift anything heavy. I thought at first it was nervous prostration, but the appearance of the brick-like sediment in the kidney secretions gave me a hint as to the true trouble. I had read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and it didn't take me long to get a box at Fleming's drug store. I began to feel the effect in a day or two, and it was only a short time until all the pains were gone and I was in perfect health. I feel that I cannot say too much for Doan's Kidney Pills."

PENN AVENUE.

"I am very glad to add my testimony to that of hundreds of other Pittsburghers as to the goodness of Doan's Kidney Pills.

"My work as car inspector at the car barns of the Consolidated Traction Co. is hard on the kidneys, and I suffered for some time with backache. The pains were very severe across the small of my back and around the groin; I could scarcely sleep; could not rest well; was always tired and depressed.

"Finally, on the advice of a friend, I got a bottle of Doan's Kidney Pills at Eggers' Pharmacy on Smithfield street, and in a remarkably short time I was as well and strong as ever—all the aches and pains and tired feelings gone. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills one of the most valuable medicines in the world—wouldn't be without it in the house for the world.

"THEODORE DAEUNER,
"No. 6867 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh."

S. 23rd STREET.

John Harris, No. 52 South Twenty-third street, says: "I thought for a long time that it was rheumatism that caused the terrible pains in my back and shoulders. I suffered so that I could not sleep at night or work in the daytime. My urine was discolored and unnatural. I suffered almost constantly. Finally I became satisfied that my kidneys were out of order, and that the uric acid in my blood was causing all the trouble. I got a bottle of Doan's Kidney Pills at Fleming's drug store, on Market street, and felt relief after the first few doses. It was a very short time until I was completely cured, and since then there has been no return of the pain at all. I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills enough."

SEVENTH AVENUE.

Mrs. William Armour, who has a grocery store at No. 528 Seventh avenue, suffered for several years with kidney troubles, and would have been suffering yet had it not been for the work of "The Little Conqueror." "It began with a pain across the small of my back," she says, "and gradually grew worse until I was scarcely able to go about my work. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I got a box at Eggers' drug store. The first few doses helped me wonderfully, and before the box was finished I was completely cured. I was so rejoiced that I sent a box to my sister, who lives in Leechburg, and who has suffered a great deal from kidney trouble. She was as greatly benefited as I was, and never gets tired of talking of the wonderful merits of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Get what you ask for. Get DOAN'S. Don't accept something "just as good." Most druggists sell Doan's Kidney Pills and will give you what you call for. Some may endeavor to substitute an article they make more profit on. Insist on having the genuine. Price 50 cents. Manufactured by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

TO CREATE DEFENSE FUND.

American Federation Considering Scheme to Aid Members During Future Strikes.

The American Federation of Labor at its annual convention in Scranton, Pa., next week will vote on additional clauses to the constitution, providing for the creation of a defense fund. This will afford means of meeting such conditions as during the recent steel workers' strike, when only by a long series of ceremony the organization could have aided the steel strikers. Programs for the Federation convention were received in Pittsburgh yesterday by officials of affiliated organizations.

The defense fund proposition to be voted on at the convention is that the executive council of the Federation each year assess all members 10 cents each to create the fund, and the assessment may be increased to 52 cents by this board.

Officials of the Amalgamated association deny that they have asked the members to approve a plan to create a defense fund by assessing all members 10 per cent. The report grew out of the assessment made after the strike to support the men who had lost their positions.

The Story of a Woman's Suffering.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering terribly. At times the pain was almost more than I could stand. My heart would nearly stop beating and I would get cold and numb.

"My husband thought many times I was dying and did not dare to leave me alone. I also suffered severely at times of menstruation.

"I had tried several doctors and they told me that they had done all that medicine could do. In the face of all this, and to the astonishment of my family and friends, your remedies cured me. I am now well and do the work for eight in the family. I feel very grateful for my recovered health, and constantly recommend your medicine."—MRS. CARRIE BELLVILLE, Ludington, Mich.

The record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is written in thousands of such letters as Mrs. Bellville's. When during its whole career of thirty years no physician has to our knowledge criticised this medicine adversely, and thousands are daily prescribing it in their practice, should you, who know less about medicine than they, say, "Oh, I do not believe it is any good"?

Mrs. Pinkham advises women free of charge. Her address is Lynn, Mass. No woman knows the truth about women's ills as thoroughly as Mrs. Pinkham, and no medicine in the world has done so much good as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

$5000 REWARD We have deposited with the National City Bank, of Lynn, $5,000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letter is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission.—LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO.

Run Down—Played Out

"I am all run down and played out. Nothing I take seems to do me any good. My food doesn't taste good, and I have no desire for it. I don't sleep well, and I get up every morning listless and weary."

This story is told in every physician's office in the country from one to twenty times a day by as many people. These same people not only tell this story to their physician, but they tell it to their friends and to their family.

Johann Hoff's Malt Extract is the thing such people haven't tried. If they had they would be different people, for nothing in the world changes such a condition so quickly as this great food assimilator which has come to us from the old world. Taken with meals becomes the perfect food digester, and within a very few days the sufferer begins to brighten up. His food is doing him good. It is being assimilated and digested. The stomach has received the required aid, and flesh and blood and nerve energy show it.

Energy is capital. It is good nature. It is usefulness. The half-starved man or woman cannot be expected to be energetic. Get the benefit of your food, and nature does the rest. Johann Hoff's Malt Extract helps nature by aiding the stomach. If you are played out and discouraged, try this delicious tonic a few times with your meals.

Dr. Daniel Thayer of Boston, writes: "I have used Johann Hoff's Malt Extract, and believe it to be a valuable tonic. I recommend it to patients needing a valuable help when suffering from debility or overwork."

Refuse the cheap so-called Malt Extracts—they are absolutely worthless. Get the genuine Johann Hoff's and you will not be disappointed.

R·I·PANS

I was troubled with sour stomach, and after eating would be in misery. I thought I would try Ripans Tabules, and I have had no trouble with my stomach since. I am never without them in the house now, and I give them to my children when they feel out of sorts.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Has occasion to record today that Christmas baskets are going to be a popular variation of the ordinary Christmas gift this year. They will be made of basket braid, brocade, satin or some other fine material; they will be small in shape and they will be filled with flowers or bonbons, and sent very early in the morning to the particular fair one whose Christmas greeting is the most prominent on the list. The florists and confectioners have received a good supply of the pretty things, ready to fill for the holiday demand, but many a one will be made at home, stitched or plaited with a loving thought in each turn of the thread, and these, I think, will be the best of all.

Embroidered Initials—

On the house-linen are indispensable now to one who would have her household treasures up to date. The sheets, however coarse in quality, have a four-inch initial letter or monogram worked in the center of the broad hem, to turn down, and if the material is at all fine there is apt to be a broad band of insertion set across where the hem is turned. The fine linen admits of exquisite work of this kind, and busy fingers now have practical employment in accomplishing it, for those who have much money but no leisure and less skill for embroidery.

A Velvet Coat—

And a big flaring bonnet wrapped the rosiest baby imaginable from the wind yesterday afternoon in an East End car, and everybody was admiring the cuddly picture of little winter. A group of workingmen boarded the car at Oakland and Miss Baby clambered down from her seat, velvet coat and all, and went to each laborer in turn, examining his dinner bucket, cooing at him in unintelligible music, and smoothing his fingers with her own wee mittened hand. Some of the men were embarrassed but all were delighted, and when baby waved a cordial good bye, as she was carried down her home avenue, there was a merry response from the whole crew.

Student Lamps—

Are preferred this year to any for the library table, according to a local dealer. Where electric light is used it is often wired low and the bulb set inside the lamp chimney. The love for old-time furniture has advanced apparently from candles to lamps and we may expect to see it go by easy stages to the present conveniences.

A Seal Jacket—

Is a delight to the woman who wears it and to all who see it. It may also be made sweet to all who approach it. If a little delicate sachet powder is brushed through the fur once a fortnight or so. A clever girl I know sifts a spoonful of the powder under the lining every now and then, but brushing it in the fur is better, as it then retains the fragrance without any of the stuffiness which many powders of inferior grade present.

A Youthful Debutante—

Plans to emulate the czarina of Russia this year by wearing all white for her first season. Our charming friend is of white robbed, with rose glimpses, another has pale yellow velvet to relieve the generous ruffles, and still another is of creamy white, relieving to a soft delicate blush, like the petal of a damask. No other color will be worn, which promises a pretty and sentimental contrast attached to the first season of [illegible]

A New Frivol—

Is a tie of peau de soie in black, white or colors embroidered with very large dots in black or white. It encircles the neck twice and ties in the popular four-in-hand in front, with short and flowing ends. A fancy one just finished for a girl who presented with a basket of Philadelphia buckeyes in the hope that it would be of pale blue with cream dots.

Pretty Children

"We have three children. Before the birth of the last one my wife used Mother's Friend. If you had seen pictures of our children, you could see at a glance that the last one is healthiest, prettiest and finest-looking of them all. My wife thinks Mother's Friend is the greatest and grandest remedy in the world for expectant mothers." Written by a Kentucky Attorney-at-Law.

MOTHER'S FRIEND prevents nine-tenths of the suffering incident to childbirth. The coming mother's disposition and temper remain unruffled throughout the ordeal, because this relaxing, penetrating liniment removes the usual distress. A good-natured mother is pretty sure to have a good-natured child. The patient is kept in a strong, healthy condition, which the child also inherits. Mother's Friend takes a wife through the crisis quickly and almost painlessly. It assists in her rapid recovery, and wards off the dangers that so often follow delivery.

Star Teams Ready for Struggle---Army and Navy Will Battle

THE FINAL GAME OF THE SEASON

Homestead and Philadelphia Stars Are Ready for the Closing Contest.

THE STRUGGLE WILL BE A WARM ONE

Quaker City Team Is Here Seeking Revenge and Is Strengthened for the Occasion — Football Season Has Been a Failure Financially.

The football season will be wound up this afternoon and the last rally promises to be one of the most important football events of the season. It will be the second meeting between the Philadelphia and Homestead stars and the game will be for blood, as the Quakers are after revenge for that defeat of last Saturday.

The Philadelphia eleven, headed by Manager Morgan Wright, reached this city yesterday morning and established quarters at the Seventh Avenue hotel. Manager Wright brought with him all his stars and an additional one in Capt. Davidson of this year's U. of P. eleven, who will be found at full back in today's game. The visiting players are in the finest physical shape and one and all assert that they mean to put a large-sized crimp into the Homesteads' reputation this afternoon. Coach Kennedy says that Dave Fultz' men will have to play 50 per cent better football than they showed on Saturday last if they expect to walk away with the victory.

The Philadelphia aggregation is largely made up of ex-Pennsylvania stars, and they play the guards back game for all it is worth, with a few variations which George Woodruff never thought of. Coach Kennedy thinks that with McCloskey at center and Davidson at full back his team will be much stronger than it was on Saturday last. The Quakers intended going out for some practice work yesterday, but the weather conditions caused them to change their minds and they spent the day about the hotel.

The weather conditions stopped the Philadelphians from indulging in practice. It had no terrors for the Homestead players, and they were out at Exposition park going through their usual practice stunts. The only absentees were Poe and Overfield, both of whom are expected to be in today's game. None of the players showed any bad effects from the severe struggle with W. & J. on Thanksgiving day, and all went about the practice work in the liveliest kind of manner.

Today's game will be in the nature of a benefit for the Homestead players, as 20 per cent of the receipts will be turned over to them. It was the original intention to allow the players to have all of the receipts, but the light turnout Thanksgiving day changed their plans. It is known that the present football season has been a failure from a financial point of view, but the guarantors of the team care little for that. The Homestead team has been a very expensive one to most of the neighborhood of $30,000 to run it, while the receipts will not reach over half that amount. The backers of the team are satisfied, however, all they wanted was a winning team and they certainly had that. The line-up for today will be as follows:

Homestead.		Philadelphia.
Hunt	L. E.	Steele
R. Pierce	L. T.	Lang
H. Pierce	L. G.	Rotzer
Overfield	Center	McCloskey
Mosse	R. G.	Smith
Winstein	R. T.	Wallace
Poe	R. E.	Harrison
Richardson	Q. B.	Kennedy
Fultz	L. H.	Washburn
Gammons	R. H.	Bader
Crollius	F. B.	Davidson

JUST ONE MORE CHANCE.

McGovern's Manager Says Terry Will Agree to Knock "Young Corbett" Out.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—In sporting circles here nothing was talked of today more than the defeat of Terry McGovern by Young Corbett in Hartford yesterday afternoon. That McGovern was beaten by a two-handed, rushing fighter like himself was conceded by everybody, but McGovern's friends are evidently of the opinion that should the boys meet again McGovern will retrieve his lost laurels.

This afternoon Sam Harris, McGovern's manager, posted $2,500 to bind another match, the time and place to be at the will of Young Corbett. In an interview this afternoon Harris said:

"In order to get a return match with Young Corbett, Terry will agree to knock him out before the limit of 20 or 25 rounds is reached, or forfeit the entire purse. Now, if Young Corbett thinks he is McGovern's master he will cover the forfeit which I have placed here in reputable hands, and if he refuses, the public can easily see who is the better man.

"I don't wish to take away any of the credit that is due to Young Corbett over his great victory, but I still claim that the fight was due to a fluke. When McGovern was put down in the first round his head came in contact with the boarded floor of the ring and this so stunned him that he was in a dazed condition thereafter. My man, McGovern, had the better of the mill up to this time and had the ring been padded there would have been another story to tell. In delivering the last blow Young Corbett did not realize himself that he had hit Terry with such force as his head was down and he was swinging his hands wildly. It was lucky enough to be a winning blow, and what I consider a chance one.

"I am positive that McGovern did not show his true form in the contest and I am willing to accept the proposition of James C. Kennedy, manager and matchmaker of the Twentieth Century Athletic club of San Francisco, Cal., who has offered a purse of $10,000 for the men to meet each other. Terry is quite willing that Terry will meet again, the same conditions to maintain and would prefer to have the winner take all. I am not blowing and want to be fair in this matter, so as to give Corbett all credit for his victory and in the making of a new contract I will give him all the time he desires to rest up before fighting Terry again. This is a fair statement and I think if he is fair-minded and believes that he can defeat McGovern again, he ought not to throw any obstacles in the way of another meeting between the two. I will wager as much as $25,000 on the side that in case the lads meet again Terry will win. I notice that it has been published that Corbett has the No featherweight championship, but this is not true. McGovern defeated George Dixon for the title of featherweight champion, the limit for which is 122 pounds, and when Terry won it, he only turned the scales at 118 and he is now ready at all times to defend his championship honors at the limit, 122 pounds, against anyone."

Among the Amateurs.

The Pittsburg College Reserves will close the season today at New Kensington. All the players are requested to report at the college at noon today.

The Foster A. C. will clash with the Brushton Mohawks at Friendship park for the 100-pound championship. A large crowd is expected. Kick-off at 3 o'clock.

The Army A. C. would like to hear from any 75 to 80-pound team for Saturday. Address G. Sunderman, 4005 Butler street, or call on Lawrence P. & A., or 518 Fisk, Bell, and ask for J. Zollinger.

The Sewickley Y. M. C. A. football team will close the most successful season it ever experienced this afternoon with a game on the Sewickley athletic field with the Westinghouse eleven of Pittsburgh.

One of the best games of the season will be played today when the North End team clashes with the Primrose A. C. The contest will take place certain, regardless of the weather, on the W. E. A. C. grounds at the end of the Perrysville avenue car line.

The McKeever Reserves wish to correct their statement of yesterday morning by saying that they lost to the Tiger Juniors by a score of 11 to 0. Both touchdowns were made on plays identical to the one at Philadelphia last Saturday. Briney bunted and then ran up and fell on the ball behind the line. In the second half the Tigers lined up, and during the dispute several McKeever men left the field, before gave the game to the Tigers and called it bets off. Final score, 11 to 0. The Tigers now the 50-pound champions of Allegheny Western Pennsylvania.

ARMY AND NAVY READY TO MEET

THE WEST POINT AND ANNAPOLIS ELEVENS WILL CLASH.

Both Teams Reach Philadelphia and Are in Fine Shape for a Hard Struggle—Victory Is Almost Conceded to Soldier Boys, but the Middies Will Fight to the Finish. President Will Be There.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—The football warriors of the West Point and Annapolis academies arrived here today for their annual contest on the University of Pennsylvania's athletic field tomorrow. Nearly every train from the north, south and west that came in during the afternoon and evening brought scores of persons, who, with the president of the United States, will watch the cadets in battle on the gridiron. All the prominent hotels of the city are crowded tonight with officers and other officials of the army and navy. President Roosevelt and members of his cabinet, accompanied by their wives, will not arrive until shortly before the time for the beginning of the game, which is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

The largest crowd that has ever seen the army and navy clash in football is expected to be on Franklin field at the kick-off. A couple of inches of snow covers the scene tonight, and it is likely that the lot of the spectators will be a bit uncomfortable, as the snow is melting, which means damp ground and wet seats. The playing field, however, is in splendid condition, the university authorities having taken the precaution of covering the ground with salt hay before the snow began falling. The announcement that the president would be on hand had the effect of making the demand for tickets an enormous one.

The navy team was the first to arrive today, the men—22 in number—getting here at 2 o'clock. They were in charge of Lieutenant Commander A. W. Grant, and were accompanied by a half dozen coaches, all of them former Princeton players. Shortly after their arrival the team was taken to Franklin field and in the snow were put through signal drill.

The army squad numbered 45. They arrived at 6 o'clock in charge of Captain Richmond P. Davis. After dinner the whole squad was marched through the principal streets by Trainer Temple for a half hour. Tomorrow morning they will be taken to the Philadelphia Country club grounds for final signal practice.

The outcome of the game seems to be a foregone conclusion if the words of the managers of the respective teams are a criterion. Cadet Porterfield of the navy said: "We expect to lose, but hope to die fighting."

Cadet Mitchell of the army was more cautious, saying: "The team is in good shape, and we intend to win, if possible."

The special trains will arrive about noon tomorrow from West Point, bringing the army corps, numbering about 400 cadets and several hundred followers. The Annapolis cadets, 300 in all, with a numerous following, will get in about the same time. The cadets will return to their respective academies immediately after the game.

The line-up tomorrow will be as follows:

HICKEY'S NEW LEAGUE.

It Is Organized and Ready for Business—Will Not Take Part in the Fight.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The American Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, with Thomas J. Hickey as president, was launched today. The new magnates finished their preliminary business and adjourned subject to the call of the president. Chicago will be President Hickey's headquarters as soon as he can arrange his personal matters and come to this city to stay. The circuit and owners of the franchises were announced as follows: Indianapolis, W. H. Watkins and J. Rauschaupt; Milwaukee, H. D. Kuin and C. S. Havenor; St. Paul, George Lennon; Columbus, T. J. Bryce; Toledo, Charles Strobel; Minneapolis, A. B. Beall; Omaha, W. A. Rourke; Kansas City, George Tebeau.

The new league announced that it would not affiliate with the National body or with any of the minor leagues. It was announced that this decision was not taken in any spirit of defiance, but because the new organization considered itself out of the field of the minor leagues, although not ranking with the National organization. Contracts will be respected, but not reservations.

The Western league, of which Hickey was formerly president, will be reorganized with a six-club circuit, including Denver, Colorado Springs, St. Joseph, Des Moines, Sioux City and Lincoln. Applications for franchises were refused to Grand Rapids, Cincinnati and Chicago. The owners of franchises for the eight clubs have deposited $500 each as a guarantee of the maintenance of the 10-year agreement signed today. The new league will have no salary limit, the matter being left to the discretion of the individual managers, but it is said as such agreements exist franchises keep all the expenses within the limit of the expected income. A board of directors, which will have the powers of a board of control, was elected. It is composed of Milwaukee, St. Paul, Kansas City, Indianapolis and President Hickey, ex-officio.

English Oarsmen Must Work.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The Outlook this week expresses deep regret at the decision of the Henley stewards to allow foreign oarsmen to compete at the annual regatta, and says:

"English oarsmen, to hold their own against Americans, will be forced to give up the ways of easy, courteous amateurs and convert themselves into professionals in everything but the payment."

FAST HOCKEY IN FIRST GAME

BANKERS BEAT KEYSTONE IN A CHAMPIONSHIP GAME.

The Game Was Very Fast, and Both Teams Have Canadian Experts Who Are Wonders on the Ice—The New Rules Confused the Spectators, and the Referee Got a Severe Roast as a Result.

The opening game of the local hockey championship season was played last night at Duquesne garden between the Banker and Keystone teams and was won by the Bankers by a score of 3 to 2 after two of the fastest halves seen on the ice in some years.

The people who journeyed out to the garden last night to see the opening game got a taste of some of the fast ice sport the lovers of hockey are to have this year. There was a very large crowd present and the demonstration at times was so loud it could be heard for squares away. This was particularly true when the spectators thought the referee was showing partiality to one team, but in this they were mistaken. This year the rules have been changed and the local games are now being played under the eastern Canadian rules. They are quite different from the rules in vogue last winter, and it was the spectators' ignorance of the change which led to protests against the referee when he was simply doing his duty.

While last night's game was much faster and much more exciting than the contests of last year still it was nothing to what the sport will be in a few weeks. Both teams were made up largely of Canadian experts who only reached the city yesterday and barely had time to get acquainted with each other. Under these circumstances team work was out of the question and but little attempt was made at it. The playing was largely of the individual kind, and while it was very fast yet it can and will be improved by team work as soon as the players get settled down to solid business.

The Bankers sprung a couple of players who are what the small boys would call "peaches." They are Howard, who played left wing, and Taylor, who played center. Both are fast, expert skaters who handle the hockey stick as if it was a walking cane, and both can shoot the puck with the accuracy of a small boy with a beanshooter. The Keystones also produced a bunch of fast ones, prominent among whom were Steel, Morrison and Westwood. These players showed that they knew their business, but their work was hampered somewhat by lack of practice and they were tired after a hard day's journey to reach here.

The game was a whirlwind affair from the first toot of the whistle. In less than two minutes both sides had shot a goal and the players kept at it right to the finish, the half ending in a tie score of 2 to 2.

The second half was the one that brought the spectators to their feet, because it was both fast and furious. The players brought out all their cunning and there was any amount of tripping and cross checking, both of which are rather dangerous practices. The half had hardly got a fair start before there was a collision between Taylor of the Bankers and Morphy of Keystone. Taylor's head struck the ice with a thump that could be heard all over the large rink. The player was knocked out, but was brought to in a few minutes and finished the game in fine style. In this half Howard made the winning point for the Bankers when he got the puck out of a scrimmage and shot it into the net. The work of the goal keepers of both teams was a feature of last night's play, as they were called on to stop some of the most difficult shots. The score and line-up:

Bankers—3.		Keystone—2.
Richardson	Goal	Hern
Henderson	Point	Morphy
Paymaster	Cover Point	Steel
Bish	Forward	Hill
Taylor	Center	Morrison
Howard	Left Wing	Young
Cowan	Right Wing	Westcott

Referee—Bert Russell. Goals—Howard 2, Clemes, Westcott, Morrison.

BOUGHT BY SMATHERS.

Former Pittsburgher Buys Lord Derby—Sharpsburg Man in on the Bidding.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Lord Derby, 2:06¼, and Shadow Chimes, 2:06¾, the two stars of the Hamlin stable, were reserved for sale until 3 o'clock this afternoon, at which hour the first named entered the ring. Lord Derby was driven by Ed Geers. D. Lamar and E. E. Smathers, both of this city, made the bidding lively until $10,000 was reached. This was Mr. Lamar's last bid, and Mr. Smathers got the horse for $500 more.

Other bidders for Lord Derby in addition to Messrs. Lamar and Smathers were Wallace Pearce of Sharpsburg, Pa., who bid to $9,500, and Nathan Straus, who bid to $8,000. At the Hartford meeting this summer Mr. Smathers offered $20,000 for Lord Derby. His offer was refused. Shadow Chimes went to William West of Edinburgh, Scotland, for $5,100.

Will Play It Today.

The postponed football game between the teams of the Carnegie A. C. of Braddock and the Homestead Library A. C. of Homestead, which ended at the end of the first half in the mud of last Saturday, will be played off today at Steel Works park, Homestead. The game will be for blood, as both teams have been placing themselves in condition all week. The rivalry between these Carnegie clubs of the Monongahela was never more keen than now, and great interest is centered in this contest, the first between the two for two years, owing to the disagreement in the summer of 1899.

Nervous Dyspepsia.

A CURE FOR IT.

Not a Patent Cure All, Nor a Modern Miracle, but Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic, and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this, and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it that the facts will not fully sustain.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in a healthy condition or not. It rests the overworked organ and revitalizes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessing of health follows the use of Stuart's digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take those Tablets after each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach, which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body receives its proper nourishment.

Any druggist will tell you Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give universal satisfaction.

UNDERWRITERS DISAPPOINTED

They Look for Steel Shares Instead of Cash in Making Settlement.

THE EXPLANATION MADE OF HEAVY BUYING

Combine a Little Too Prosperous for the Syndicate's Calculations—A New Pittsburgh Corporation. Puzzling Money Situation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The good buying that has developed in the shares of the United States Steel Corporation since the settlement earlier in the week with the underwriting syndicate, a settlement involving the return of the $25,000,000 originally to defray the expenses of bringing the combine into existence and getting it started, has been remarked with considerable surprise in the street. It was said today by competent authorities that the greater part of this buying has emanated from the members of the syndicate themselves, a statement that might be questioned with good reason except for the explanation that goes with it.

The story is that the members of the underwriting syndicate were disappointed over the settlement. Instead of the return of their $25,000,000 cash, or at least in lieu of part of it, they expected to get some more cheap stock. Failing of this, they decided at once to invest a large percentage of the money in getting long of the market at current market prices.

This display of such confidence in the merit of steel is gratifying in itself, but it has deeper significance for the speculative element. It seems to be pretty good indication that a movement is contemplated. Some surprise is heard at the revelation that the members of the underwriting syndicate had so little of their original stock left that they have now to buy more in the open market. As a matter of fact, the stock originally alotted to the syndicate was distributed some time ago. The last of this work was reflected in the strange—and for the time, unaccountable—selling of United States Steel on a large scale only about six weeks ago. It was evident then to the insiders that the syndicate was taking profits on what stock it had left, and this was done probably in anticipation of the division of more when it should arrive time for settlement.

Gold May Go Out Again.

It is expected that gold will be shipped hence next week. Sterling exchange advanced today to 487⅝, which is within a fraction of the point at which the yellow metal could be exported at a profit to Paris provided Paris exchange on London were a bare ⅛ centime lower. Paris exchange is now quoted at 25 francs 17 centimes. An advance here to 488 and a decline in Paris to 25 francs 16⅓ centimes, almost inevitably would cause London to withdraw gold from New York for shipment to France. The local banking authorities are not worried over the outlook. No estimate of the amount of gold likely to go is ventured.

Bank Statement a Difficult Guess.

Banking preparations to meet the December interest and dividend disbursements, aggregating $50,000,000, together with the shifting of $25,000,000 involved in the United States Steel Corporation's settlement with the underwriting syndicate, throws the calculations of the bank statement out of true. It is very difficult to forecast results with any hope of accuracy. The known movements of money indicate that the banks have gained about $1,200,000 from the interior and lost $900,000 to the sub-treasury, leaving a net gain for the banks of a trifle more than $300,000; but then the loan and deposit items are not so easy to forecast. It is in this that the preparations for December disbursements and the repayment of $25,000,000 to the steel underwriting syndicate will be reflected. The latter transaction involves little more than a shifting of credits, or, technically, it should be so; but if the syndicate members have invested a large part of that $25,000,000 in the market it will make a difference.

New Pittsburgh Corporation.

The list of New Jersey incorporations today yields only two items of interest. The largest incorporation was that of the Pittsburgh Lamp, Brass & Glass Company, capital $1,500,000. The incorporators are given as James H. Willock, Frank G. Wallace, George W. Blair, George B. Barrett, Nicholas Kopp, William Airy, David McNaugher and Edward A. Kitzmiller. All of these are "straw men" of Camden, N. J., which is the address of the incorporation company through which the new concern filed its papers.

The only other important incorporation was that of the Empire Asphalt Company, capital $500,000, of which Edward J. McElvain is one of the incorporators.

Prosperous Car Company.

Bullish reports about the American Car & Foundry Company are thick in Wall street. Earnings for the current quarter are expected by official interests to run far ahead of those reported for the preceding quarter. Judging from the liberal way in which the railroad companies are placing orders for cars it would seem that the American Car & Foundry Company need not worry about business. It has now sufficient orders on its books to keep its plants running at maximum capacity for the next six months.

Effect of a Presidential Selection.

The Pennsylvania railroad has placed an order with the American Locomotive Company for 50 locomotives. This is a matter of peculiar interest because it marks a breaking away from old lines and is one of the first effects of Mr. Callaway's influence with railroad interests. Hitherto the Pennsylvania has ordered from the Baldwins all the locomotives it needed in excess of the capacity of its own plants at Altoona. The American Locomotive Company, therefore, is highly pleased with this order. The organizers of the combine were far-sighted, indeed, when they took Mr. Callaway from the presidency of the New York Central and put him at the head of the American Locomotive Company.

A Diagnosis of Pittsburgh Failure.

Elverton R. Chapman, who represents several New York capitalists interested in the Hartman Manufacturing Company, and who has just returned from an investigation of the company's affairs in Pittsburgh, said when seen at his office in this city today:

"The appointment of a receiver for the Hartman Company is the result of trying to run an extensive business on borrowed capital. The creditors want their money when payments fall due, and the company has been unable to meet the demands made upon it. The capital of the company is $250,000, and I should say that their plant is worth about $500,000. The output of the mills is 151 miles of wire fence and about 1,000 kegs of nails a day. The receivership is asked for, not to close out the company's business, but for the purpose of reorganization."

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Hidden Hand mine and mill site in the Seven Devils district, Idaho, has been bonded by G. A. Raum of Washington for $100,000.

Salt Lake reports that J. E. Dubois of Philadelphia has been inspecting the Yankee Consolidated and is much pleased with the prospects of the property. Ore production is to be doubled upon.

Eastern capitalists have bonded the Superior group of claims on Bonanza Flat, near Park City, Utah, for $105,000. Rich copper shipments are still coming from the O. K. at Milford.

A trial shipment of five tons from the Silver Glance on Bear lake, Washington, returned 400 ounces silver and $3 gold to the ton.

It is reported that all the low-grade ore on the Comstock, Nevada, is to be worked by the cyanide process. The saving is estimated at 12 per cent over the present methods.

Two carloads of ore from the Lost Emigrant, in Placer county, Cal., returned $3,500, or an average of $150 to the ton.

A copper camp is being established 15 miles from Porcupine City, in British Northwest Territory. Four distinct ledges, the ore from which assays high, have been traced on the surface for several miles.

A tunnel on the Osteen, in the Mt. Reuben district, Oregon, has uncovered a five-foot vein of high-grade ore that assays as high as $60 gold.

The Bonanza Queen, in Snohomish county, Wash., has been sold to Minneapolis men for $150,000. A carload of ore shipped by the Index Mining Company to the Everett smelter returned $60 a ton clear of smelting and transportation charges.

Nugget ore has been struck on one of the claims of the Home Copper Company near Clifton, Ariz.

Metals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Activity and excitement prevailed in tin circles abroad yesterday and today. Liquidation in a large way resulted in a net loss of £5 15s on spot and £5 on futures since Wednesday's close, thus the former finished the day at £118 and the latter at £106 10s, with the market weak. Locally the market was unsettled and bewildered. Nevertheless, there was manifested a fair inquiry with sellers somewhat scarce. Consequently sales were limited to 200 tons, of which 100 tons were reported on spot at the close, quoted at $28 00@31 50, or 3 to 5c below the close of Wednesday. The arrival of several steamers with liberal cargoes of tin broke up the corner and resulted in the decline noted above. Copper at London also suffered a severe setback, with declines £7 10s since Wednesday's bear hammering and liquidation. The close found spot at 57s 10d and futures 56s. At New York, however, the market was quiet and unchanged at $16 85@17 00 for Lake Superior and $16 37½@16 62½ for casting and electrolytic. Lead at London declined 2s 6d to £11 1s 9d, while at New York the market was unchanged at $4 37½. Spelter was unchanged at home and abroad, closing quiet at £4 3s nominal and £61 12s 6d respectively. Iron was without change, but steady in tone. Pig iron warrants, $10 50@11 50; No. 1 northern foundry, $15 00@16 00; No. 2 foundry southern, $14 00@15 00; No. 1 foundry southern, $14 50@15 50; No. 1 foundry southern soft, $14 50@16 00. Glasgow iron warrants closed at 56s 6d and Middlesboro closed 42s 10½d.

Wool.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today numbered 12,857 bales. The attendance was good. Fine merinos were eagerly taken, some superior greasy selling slightly higher than the October sales average. Cross-breds were in large supply, chiefly medium and coarse. Fine cross-breds were in demand for all sections. Slipes met with a fairly spirited sale. Coarse grades were difficult to sell. Following are the sales in detail:

New South Wales, 4,300 bales; scoured, 3½d @1s 4½d; greasy, 5½@10d.

Queensland, 1,300 bales; scoured, 7½d@1s 8d; greasy, 6½d@10½d.

Victoria, 1,600 bales; scoured, 5½d@1s 4½d; greasy, 2¾d@10d.

South Australia, 300 bales; scoured, 4¾d@1s 4½d; greasy, 5½d@8d.

New Zealand, 4,100 bales; scoured, 4¾d@1s 4½d; greasy, 2½d@4¼d.

Tunis, Avenas, 900 bales; greasy, 2½d@6¼d.

Falkland Islands, 300 bales; greasy, 3¾d@ 3¾d.

Wool.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The Commercial Bulletin will say in tomorrow's report on the wool trade of the United States: "The crop of from 50 per cent to all but the choicest wools in London has been accompanied by the dumping of a line of 1,500 bales of Australian, choice, 70s and 64s, on the Boston market at 4 cents the scoured pound less than cost of importation. This has not, however, sent down the price of American wools, as they are still far below the cost of foreign landed. Choice Nevada fine has been sold on a scoured basis of 50c this week, for example. The nearest foreign substitute is Cape wool, which costs 82c the scoured pound landed. There have been a good few fleece-wool sales, with a particularly large business in Texas and scoured wools. The receipts of wool in Boston since January 1 have been 240,454,139 pounds, against 139,512,963 pounds for the same period in 1900. The Boston shipments to date are 239,455,942 pounds, against sales of 142,405,500 pounds for the same period in 1900. The stock on hand in Boston January 1, 1901, was 76,300,500 pounds; the total stock today is 83,344,697 pounds.

Weight of Copper Too Much for the Strength of the Market

AMALGAMATED LED A DECLINE

Persistent Slump in That Issue Finally Affected Other Quarters of Market.

EARLY GAINS NEARLY ALL WIPED OUT

Rumored Decision of Copper Interests to Abandon Attempt to Sustain the Price of Spot Copper. Movement of Cash from Interior.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Amalgamated Copper was again an unsettling influence in the whole stock market. Its downward course was not very erratic, the decline being punctuated by only a few points of resistance and by no effective rally. The resistance was not long maintained at any time, and the price was soon allowed to sag again. Near the end of the day the price touched 75, an extreme decline of 5%, and closed only a shade better. There was no appearance of any attempt to support the stock and it was left to its own courses. The demoralization in the raw copper market in London was the impelling cause of the decline. There were enormous sales there of spot copper and of futures resulting in a drop in the price of the former of £5 per ton and in the latter of £4 per ton. The stocks of all copper securities scored violent declines in foreign markets and the prices of metals slumped all around in London, including pig tin, lead and iron. Anaconda fell 3 points in sympathy with Amalgamated. Rumors were very persistent of a determination on the part of the company to abandon the attempt to sustain the price of spot copper, but no official admission could be secured on the subject. A judicial decision adjudging a director of the company guilty of contempt of court for failure to testify in the suit against the absorption of the Boston & Montana was possibly a subsidiary cause of the weakness. The demoralization of Amalgamated was without notable effect in the general market until near the close. There were a number of strong points developed due to individual causes, and the market was inclined to harden all around on the published forecast of a favorable bank statement, but the final drop in the copper stocks caused the loss of the principal part of the gains and carried prices a point or more below last night for Union Pacific, Atchison, Missouri Pacific, New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio. Sugar was at one time more than 2 points higher, but lost practically all of the gain. Other gains of a point or over were shown at one time by the United States Steel stocks, several minor steel stocks, St. Paul, Wabash preferred, Reading, Louisville, Manhattan and several of the industrials. The Pacific coast stocks were all strong at advances of 2 to 4 points. Owing to the Thanksgiving holiday the figures furnished by the banks of cash changes show results only up to Wednesday night. But the movement of cash from the interior was clearly in favor of this center and indicates a net gain by the banks on the express movement of upward of $1,000,000, which more than offsets the losses on sub-treasury operations. The drafts against arrivals of gold at San Francisco, which are on the way to the amount of nearly $4,000,000, have not figured in the week's showing. The government's revenue requirements upon the money market show a distinct relaxation, the month's receipts thus far falling over $1,000,000 below those of last year, while the expenditures are several hundred thousand dollars in excess of those for the corresponding period of last year. Sterling exchange and continental exchange continued their upward course today, in spite of slightly easier money in London, owing to the completion of the settlement. The price of gold advanced in London today. The impression is growing that further gold will go out next week.

Central of Georgia income bonds were strong for the three issues and Consolidated tobacco 4s advanced on the declaration of a dividend on Continental tobacco. The bond market generally was irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,130,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

W. B. Dean of St. Paul has been selected to succeed Mr. Schiff as a director of the Great Northern.

With assets amounting to nearly $11,000,000 the semi-annual statement of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings makes a very representative showing. An itemized statement setting forth the excellent condition of this prominent financial institution may be found on another page of today's GAZETTE. It is worthy of note that 11,416 new accounts have been opened by this bank since last January.

A New York telegram says: There are indications that a part of the buying of United States Steel on Wednesday and Tuesday are by members of the underwriting syndicate who have hoped they would get some cheap stock instead of cash in the syndicate settlement; failing to do so they are investing the money they have on hand in the Steel stocks at current prices. Regarding the companies' earnings we have reason for believing that the estimate of $11,000,000 for October is not excessive. This is at the rate of $132,000,000 a year, which is largely in excess of the estimate made when the corporation was formed. An exceedingly gratifying feature is the promptness of the company's collections, in consequence of which it is very strong in cash all the time.

A very high authority on coal questions remarked to us this morning that he thought the public did not appreciate the peculiarly rich resources of the Reading company. Inasmuch as the public seem to pay no heed to the fact that it had 50 per cent of all the known anthracite coal beds, while it had 30 per cent of the current anthracite coal product in 1880, the total tonnage of anthracite coal from the base of supplies was 28,000,000 tons; in 1891 they were 41,000,000, in 1901 they will be about 53,000,000. To have as Reading has, nearly one-third of this supply, which now sells at over 50 cents per ton higher than a year ago, is in itself a big dividend for Reading, which shows it in coal figures quite apart from its railroad earnings.

OVER $856,000 GAINED.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Cornmeal and Rolled Oats Strong and High—Potatoes Firm at Quotations.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

As the result of no bulletin of receipts on Thursday arrivals appeared large yesterday, 98 cars being reported. The only actual price paid from Monday was an advance of 50 cents per ton in No. 2 white middlings, which are very strong, being especially firm on account of the scarcity of No. 1, of which grade very little is coming forward. Oats, while remaining at old quotations, are really stronger, holding stiff at 50 cents for No. 2 white. New ear corn was offered on the exchange at 67 cents, white old continued steady at 71@72c.

Groceries.

Through all the list of prices for staples there runs a firm feeling, which, in some lines, is becoming apparent in advancing figures. Especially is this noticeable in cereals, where oat and corn products have felt the full strength of the grain market, and have appreciated rapidly. Cornmeal, rolled oats and oatmeal now command very high prices, and are firmer today than at any previous time. Split peas are up, barrels now bringing $6 flat, with smaller lots going at 3½ cents per pound. Flour is no higher in the local market, but in the northwest there is increased activity, with heavy selling reported. Coffee is also higher in primal markets, with speculating for options reported heavy. Refined sugar is fairly firm, and refiners are claiming confidence in the situation, but buyers are showing no disposition to do more than cover immediate needs.

Flour—Jobbers' price: Fancy spring patents, $3 90@4 00; fancy winter patents, $3 75@3 80; straight winter, $3 50@3 60; bakers' spring, $3 60@3 65; fancy spring straight, $3 25@3 45; cornmeal, bbl, $3 85; 10-lb cotton bags, 22c.

Canned Goods.

Not a change of any kind to note in these lines. The market is steady, and quoted figures are strenuously adhered to when sales are made, but nothing is any higher, nor is there likely to be any advance until demand stiffens up. At the moment the market is quiet.

Standard pie peaches, 80@85c gallon; pie peaches, $2 50@3 00; California L. C. peaches, $1 90@2 35; Maryland peaches, $1 20@1 75; California, 3 F., $1 85@2 00; corn, fancy, Standards, 80@$1 00; corn, 82½@75c; California cherries, white, $2 00@2 25; lima beans, $1 20@1 40; soaked lima beans, 75@80c; string do, 65@$1 25; marrowfat peas, 85c@$1 10; early June peas, $1 00@1 20; soaked peas, 55@60c; New York apples, gal. cans, $3 25 doz; pineapples, $1 70@2 20; damson plums, $1 60; California plums, $1 55@1 60; raspberries, 85@90c; gooseberries, 85c@$1 00; standard tomatoes, $1 15@1 20; fancy, $1 35@1 50; salmon, 1-lb cans, $1 20@1 30; succotash, 1-lb cans, 85c @$1 40; chipped beef, 1-lb cans, $2 25@2 75, and 2-lb corned and roast beef, cans, $1 75@2 00; mackerel, 2 and 3-lb cans, broiled, $1 75 @2 00; sardines, domestic, ¼s, $3 25@3 35; mustards, ⅛s, $2 70. Dried Fruits.

While the currant market remains very firm, with quotations unchanged, there is an easier feeling in raisins, with prices slightly lower. Demand is still active, goods moving out freely at quotations. Evaporated raspberries, though rather light request, are strong, prices now ruling higher than those prevalent earlier in the season. Prunes are in good demand at unchanged figures; the claim is made by packers that new crop prunes are not sufficiently abundant to take care of the active request for a very long time, but jobbers here are not expecting any shortage.

Evaporated apricots, in bags, 10½@11c; 25-lb boxes, 11¼@12c; apples, in bulk, 9½c, 1-lb cartons, 10@11c; peaches, 8@12c; raisins, seeded, 1-lb pkgs, 8@9c; raisins, Muscatels 2 and 3 crown, 6@6½c per lb; Ondaria Valencia, 7½@8c; raspberries, 27@ 27½c; currants, cleaned, 25 and 50-lb pkgs, 8½@8¾c; California prunes, 4½@7½c.

Fruits and Produce.

Should wintry weather continue there may be a chance for potatoes to exhibit more strength, as shipping would be more expensive with the necessity for lining and heating cars. At present there is an abundance of stock here, and it is just a question of how anxious buyers are as to whether figures now asked will prevail. Various opinions are expressed by dealers in the trade, reaching all the way from predictions of a much higher market down to a break in quotations and easier conditions. As a matter of fact with the stability of imported stocks always threatening the situation it does not seem as though there was a likelihood of much higher quotations which would be at all enduring. Pereiva potatoes are smaller and less desirable than the domestic stock, but will be quickly purchased when sold under figures asked for the American product. In other lines the market is firm. String beans are much higher, and strawberries have advanced. Apples are strong at quotations, Pittsburgh prices being lower than eastern markets.

Tropical Fruits and Nuts.

There is absolutely nothing new in the situation, prices all remaining unchanged, with demand good, but not really active, except for Malaga grapes, which are leaders in quick selling. There has been a large crop of this fruit, and prices are lower than for several years, a fact of which purchasers have not been slow to avail themselves. Oranges are going out steadily, but not fast enough to consume all receipts, while lemons are in moderate demand. Dates and figs are in fair request. No change in nuts, which had a good run during the first of the week, but are now weaker.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

There were some arrivals of fresh butter yesterday, and dealers had less difficulty in filling orders, but prices are inactive, and quotations are holding firm. Eggs were a little easier, under the influence of expected arrivals from the south, although prices are as yet higher than a week ago. Print creamery is the only market during the coming month, and the situation may be expected to quickly respond to variations in temperature. Wintry conditions will bring higher prices and warm weather will weaken the market.

Butter—Elgin creamery, prints, 27½@28c; do tubs, 26½@27c; Ohio and Pennsylvania creamery, 25@26c; fancy country rolls, 21@22c; fresh country roll, 16@17c; cooking butter, 14 @16c.

Eggs—Fresh, candled, doz, 27@28c; storage, 20@22c.

Poultry and Game.

After the rush of the Thanksgiving trade the market is quiet, with very little demand. Stocks cleaned up well during the week, few turkeys being left over, and they will be scarce here what little is going today. There are still a good many live chickens here, but dressed were sold well up to all that were offered. Ducks were in demand beyond the supply, and geese have been sold; they are scarce. Prices for the present remain unchanged.

Chickens—Live hens, per lb, 7@8c; spring-ers, 6@8c; roosters, 5@6c; turkeys, old, 8@ 9c; do spring, 8@9c; old turkeys dressed, 14@15c; spring turkeys, dressed, 14@15c; hens, dressed, 13@14c; fresh spring, dressed, 13@ 14c; geese, live, 7@8c; dressed, 10@11c; do, dressed, 15@16c. Rabbits, 25@35c.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—There have been few buyers in the market today and a snowstorm has further curtailed spot business. There has been no change in the cotton goods division of trade. Print cloths have had a fairly limited business. Odds in print cloths are rather in favor of buyers. Linens very firm, with quiet demand. Burlaps inactive and easy.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 29.—Cloth steady, with a fair demand. Yarns quiet and steady.

Bullish Enthusiasm Pervades Cereal Market

...TTER CABLES START BUYING

...eneral Advance All Along the Line Among Cereals at Chicago.

...ROP DAMAGE IN THE SOUTHWEST

This, Coupled With Demand from St. Louis and Commission House Buying, Were the Factors Which Gave Confidence to the Bulls.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Bull enthusiasm resulting from the strength in the southwestern markets sent prices climbing in all pits on the board today, December wheat closing to advanced, December corn ⅝@⅝c higher and December oats ⅝c up. Provisions closed 17½c to 27½c higher.

Improved cables started a spurt of buying at the opening of the wheat pit. Receipts, however, especially in the northwest, were heavy and tended to offset the foreign strength. December opened irregular at ...@⅛c up, at 72⅝@ 72¼c to 72¼c. There was a slight reaction after the first bulge, owing to a similar movement in corn. Soon a good commission house demand sprang up and the outside markets reported good advances over prices here. St. Louis was a buyer here and news from the southwest reported damage to the winter crop. Heavy professional buying resulted—the most in fortnight—and prices advanced steadily. December strong and higher at 73¼c. Final receipts were 177 cars, 34 of contract grade: Minneapolis and Duluth reported 1,467 cars, making a total for the three points of 1,644 cars, against 965 cars last week and 1,339 a year ago. Argentine shipments had increased 1,872,000 to 8,000 bushels, compared with 728,000 bushels a year ago. Primary receipts were 1,952,000 bushels for two days, compared with last year's 1,521,000 bushels. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 458,000 bushels. The seaboard reported 15 loads taken for export.

Corn had a broad, strong market, though not so active as wheat. December opened ¼@⅜c up on strong cables and advanced in spite of liberal selling early. Receipts were very small; the pit took everything offered and prices suffered a short-lived decline. After some seesawing a commission house demand and a good shipping business started bulls to activity and prices went up to their highest since the opening of this campaign. December sold up to 62⅝c and May to 65¾c. Prices tempted profit taking and the close was off a trifle from top prices, though firm and ⅝@¾c higher than Wednesday's close at 62⅜@62½c. Receipts were 53 cars.

Aided by corn strength, December oats opened ⅜c higher. Trade was fairly active, but not to the extent of business in the other grains. Receivers were moderate sellers and were reporting good acceptances. Receipts were liberal. In the cash market held narrowly, December closing steady and ⅜c higher at the opening price, 42¾c. Receipts were 184 cars.

Provisions sold up well from the start, having liberal gains in everything, mainly the country demand and on the line of shorting. Strong cash markets and hogs were the bull incentives. All ...t prices were strong; January pork, ...p at $16 27½; January lard, 22½c higher at $9 55, and January ribs, 17½c up at $8 87½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 110 cars; corn, 145 cars; oats, 230

CAR SHORTAGE CHECKS TRADE

Constitutes the Only Drawback in an Otherwise Satisfactory Situation

SUPPLIES OF PIG IRON DECREASE

Consumption More Than Equals the Output of Unusually Active Furnaces—Railway Supplies Are in Urgent Demand.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

When consumptive demand equals or exceeds supply and prices are firmly held at an exceptionally high level it is generally considered that there is little to be desired in the business situation. These factors are now in evidence to an unusual extent, yet many industries are halting. The principal disturbing element is the lack of cars to handle the phenomenal shipments that are urgently needed. In the same connection there have appeared numerous labor controversies among switchmen, freight handlers, river pilots, miners and other allied workmen, which combine to make the problem of transportation most intricate. Although the movement of grain to interior cities is at the rate of nearly 3,000,000 bushels daily, the westward traffic of merchandise is so unprecedented as to necessitate the return of empty cars. Any loss of general trade due to the holiday was more than made up by the phenomenal preparations of the preceding days and the dealings in special lines.

Pig Iron in Demand.

A general advance in the prices of pig iron indicates that record-breaking activity at furnaces fails to produce accumulation of supplies. Steel mills are seeking material urgently, and Bessemer pig for prompt delivery at Pittsburgh is not available below $8.50. Large sales of forge and foundry iron are reported at further advances, and southern iron in the Chicago market is also higher. Buying of railway supplies is the most urgent feature; rails, cars, engines, structural material for bridges and shop equipments all being wanted much earlier than they can be delivered. In general lines the movement is scarcely less active, and at present the business in 1902 appears limited by facilities, but it is probable that producing capacity will be greatly enlarged. The feature among the minor metals was the sharp advance in tin to much the highest point of the year because of delayed arrivals. In marked contrast to the rise in tin was a sharp decline in silver to the lowest price since early in 1898.

Shoe Shops Busy.

Shoe shops at the east are fully employed, while western producers were never before so actively engaged. The only section where factories are not enjoying entirely satisfactory business is in this immediate vicinity, and local concerns do not provide a large proportion of the aggregate capacity. Jobbing trade is greatly accelerated by the fall in temperature and makers are importuned for early shipments. Leather sells freely at full figures and dry hides are another fraction higher, but slaughter hides at Chicago are easy. Recent buying of cotton goods for China has stimulated the export movement, and for the year thus far the value shows an increase over any preceding year. Asia and South America are the leading customers. Conditions are even more favorable at woolen mills, one concern refusing a large order for delivery in February. Heavyweight goods are very active with retailers and jobbers.

The Grain Markets.

Another high record for the season was established by corn, not alone because of speculative operations, although these were most aggressive at the west. Even at the recent level of prices, which surpassed all high points in about 10 years, it has proved futile to undertake commitments on the short side of the market. Domestic requirements alone provide the element of strength, for outside buying is only about 15 per cent of the business in previous years. Atlantic exports for the week were 528,172 bushels, against 3,570,696 last year. Receipts come forward slowly, despite the attractive prices, for the week amounting to only 2,208,279 bushels, against 3,386,370 last year.

Wheat also held firmly, closing the week more than 4 cents above the price a year ago, which is most satisfactory in view of the vast increase in yield. Receipts at the interior are liberal—6,280,443 bushels, against 3,901,798 last year, but the gain in foreign buying is still the feature, exports from all ports of the United States in five days aggregating 3,975,819 bushels, compared with 2,839,070 a year ago.

Failures for the week numbered 189 in the United States, against 178 last year, and 25 in Canada, against 21 last year.

BANK CLEARINGS.

HORSE NUMBER OF INDEX.

Fine Edition of the Journal of Pittsburgh Society Advocates Show for This City.

The Index comes out this morning with a "Horse Number," a sort of echo of the New York horse show, but really a presentation of the question, "Why not have a horse show in Pittsburgh?" To answer this question the Index publishes an interesting article on the possibilities of such an exhibition in this city and announces the interesting fact that plans are under way for giving a large horse show in Duquesne garden next year.

The article on "Possibilities for a Horse Show" is illustrated by about 20 engravings from photographs of fashionable turnouts owned in Pittsburgh and the east. President Roosevelt's new carriage team is described and illustrated.

Another article deals with the awards at the New York horse show and another describes the fine new hunter, Big Red, recently purchased for Miss Mary Flinn by her father, Senator William Flinn. A handsome half-page illustration of Miss Flinn on her horse is given. There is also a half-page reproduction of Lady Bonnie, the only Pittsburgh horse to win a prize at the New York show. Lady Bonnie is the property of Mrs. C. Herbert Halcomb of Allegheny and has taken 10 horse show prizes since May.

The usual news of society and the theaters, music, art and automobiles is given, all well illustrated.

Doubling Our Clothing Sales.

The Big Store" is now doing the biggest business in its history. Every department shows a large increase, and the clothing floor heads the list. We have been doubling our November Clothing sales right along, and today, being the last day of the month, we expect to treble them. With the swellest and most extensive stock of Men's Suits and Overcoats ever shown by us, and the majority of expert clothing salesmen in Pittsburgh in our employ, we will be able to promptly serve and satisfy all comers. Among the special inducements we shall offer today will be

2,100 of those Long, Loose Overcoats, which every man now wants,

but which are so scarce, that few stores can supply them. We have had these 2,100 made by special contract, placed before the present scarcity. The Coats arrived yesterday, and they're dandies. Some are the swagger Automobile styles; others the fashionable Yoke or Lord Kitchener styles; still others, the popular Fullmore or London Great Coat effects. Other stores may show a few similar long coats, but none have so many, nor just as correct as we have. And we sell these coats for fully

Our $20 & $25 Suits & Overcoat

Our well-known policy of selling "the best possible goods for the least possible money" is attracting the majority of Pittsburgh Clothing buyers to "The Big Store." But there are other advantages to be derived from buying here. We have the right styles and we have an assortment so large as to meet the wants of all men. At the prices stated above you can take your choice from counter after counter of suits, in those clever Military styles with broad shoulders, skirt flanged coats and wide, tapering trousers or the more genteel styles for elderly men, and no end of Overcoats, in the extreme lengths or cut three-quarter long, in all the choice domestic and imported woolens, with or without heavy silk lining, and vertical or horizontal pockets. Unlike other stores that haven't many of those long swagger Overcoats, we don't try to make you believe that medium long or short Overcoats are in fashion. We tell you plainly that the "long coats" are the proper caper, and then leave you to choose what you want. We have ALL styles.
